Vice Squad Chief Suspended for Receiving Rewards

$1,689 PAID AGREE FOR STATE CASES, SUBORDINATES SAY

Lieutenant Accepted $2 Each for Liquor Violations and $1 for Gambling Cases, Claim.

TRIAL OF CHIEF SET FOR AUGUST 31

Squad Head Says Acceptance of Fees Was Authorized by Former Police Committee.

Lieutenant E. S. Agree, chief of the Atlanta vice squad, Wednesday night was suspended from the police department by order of the police committee of city council, pending trial on charges of receiving rewards, in violation of rules of the force.

Complaints were that Agree, as head of the vice squad, received $1,689 from Sheriff James I. Lowry for cases carried into the state courts in an effort to stem the rising tide of lawlessness in Atlanta. Agree was paid at the rate of $2 each for prohibition cases and $1 each for gambling cases, from a fund set aside by Fulton county commissioners at the request of Solicitor General John A. Boykin, according to reports to the committee.

Charges against Agree are said to have been initiated through his subordinates on the "wrecking squad" because they failed to get their "pro rata cut" of the spoils, and hints were that a small group of close associates of the vice squad chief may become involved in the matter before it is finally settled. Rumors were current that these men received the money which should have been distributed to the officers making the actual arrests, on which prosecutions in liquor and gambling cases were based.

Poole Asked to Resign.

"One of the men told me I should resign as assistant chief of police and head the vice squad, as I would make more money," Chief Poole informed the committee. "This led to the investigation."

In a communication from Mr. Agree to the committee he admitted receiving the fees, but contended that it was authorized by the police committee of last year. Councilman Jim T. Osburn, of the seventh ward and only hold-over member of last year's committee, stated that he could not recall any such agreement, and a careful check of the record was ordered to ascertain whether any such action was ever taken by the committee of last year.

It was rumored that other officers of the department may become involved in the probe on the grounds that a "ring" in which the fees were split was operated.

A check of last year's record will be made to ascertain just how much money was paid over to Mr. Agree and his men last year. No record of distribution of the funds for this year is available, according to officials of the police department, who claim that Agree declared that Chief Poole ordered the record discontinued. Chief Poole stated that he never before heard of the matter.

Chief Poole was instructed to prepare the case for trial at the next meeting of the police committee, August 31. Subpoenas will be issued.

Scores Crushed In Demonstration In Great Britain

SON KILLS FATHER, TAKEN FOR THIEF

Adrian Man Shot as He Returns Home From Inspecting Tobacco Barn and Enters House.

Adrian, Ga., August 10.—(P)—Mistaken for a burglar by his son last night, John W. Drake, 70, was shot and instantly killed at his home near here while he was attempting to enter the house.

James Drake, the son of the dead man, was aroused by his wife late in the night. She said that she heard some one attempting to enter the house. The son pulled a pistol from under his pillow and shot at a shadow that proved to be his father, who had gotten up to inspect his tobacco barn and was returning to his bed. The father died instantly.

POWER OF TURKS LAID TO BLUNDERS

Rift Between East and West in Europe Caused by Allied Mistakes, Italian Says.

Williamstown, Mass., August 10.—(P)—Diplomatic blunders in Paris by allied statesmen after the end of the world war allowed the triumphant re-entry of Turkey into European affairs and the consequent loss of prestige by western Europe in the east, Count Carlo Sforza, Italian diplomat, said in an address at the institute of politics tonight.

Count Sforza, who was sent by the Italian government after the war as Italian high commissioner to Turkey, said that following upon the destruction of the Greek front in August, 1922, by the reconstituted Turkish army and the loss of his throne by King Constantine, the Turkish nation, rejuvenated by the nationalists, commenced its successful return to power.

"The result of four years of blunders, illusions and extensive pretensions was the armistice of Mudanya in October, 1922," he said, "by which Europe was obliged to consent to the reentry into Constantinople of the nationalists and to that of the Turkish government into eastern Thrace. In short, the complete return of the Turk into Europe. The treaty of Lausanne only served to accentuate the end of all European privileges."

"I shall never forget the sad confession that Lord Curzon, with tears in his eyes, made to me. Proud as he was, he owned, to his credit, honestly that he had made a mistake. Such regrets, however, are useless in politics, however meritorious they may be in moral psychology."

Count Sforza said that it was still possible to reestablish European influence in the east although it was a difficult problem and not one of force.

"It can still be done," he said, "because the east really wants the west more than we think."

More Than 10,000 Sacco and Vanzetti Sympathizers March on United States Embassy.

MOUNTED POLICE SCATTER CROWDS

"If America Kills These Men It Will Be Murder and We Will Repay," Says Speaker.

London, August 10.—(P)—After a demonstration in favor of Sacco and Vanzetti in Hyde Park, crowds estimated to number 10,000 marched late tonight down Park Lane, passing near Buckingham palace to the American embassy, where they were dispersed by a strong force of foot and mounted police.

The demonstrators, who were singing the "Internationale" and carrying red banners, became packed and immovable when they joined thousands of other spectators in Grosvenor Gardens, opposite the American embassy.

Women Scream, Men Curse.

Mounted police, riding four and six abreast, charged at a canter into the throng. The people fled in a panic as fast as the human masses could be dissolved, amid the screams of women and the outcries and curses of men.

Scores of persons were crushed into doorways where cries of distress arose and shouts of "There are children here!"

Without drawing their clubs, the mounted police, supported by hundreds of police on foot, pushed

VALERA BACKERS WILL TAKE OATH

45 Fianna Fail Delegates To Irish Parliament To Swear Allegiance to British Crown.

Dublin, Irish Free State, August 10.—(P)—The executive committee of the Fianna Fail, the republican party, headed by Eamon de Valera, tonight unanimously decided that the 45 members of the party who have been elected deputies to the Irish Free State parliament shall take the oath of allegiance to the British crown and assume their seats on Friday.

De Valera himself joined his followers in the unanimous decision, notwithstanding the recent report that he would resign his leadership and perhaps even retire from politics rather than recent his frequently declared refusal to take the oath to a "foreign sovereign." Tonight's meeting, however, decided to regard the oath as an "empty formality," and made the declaration that Fianna Fail's only allegiance is to the Irish nation.

The question of swearing allegiance to the crown has kept the republicans from taking seats in the dail since the creation of the Irish Free State.

This sensational move by the republicans is understood to have been brought about by fear that the free state government's new public safety bill might destroy the republican party. The public safety bill gives the government great latitude in dealing with any situation which it considers to threaten the safety of the government. One clause provides the death penalty for anyone carrying arms without authorization.

HUSBAND SHOTS WIFE WHO SOUGHT DIVORCE DECREE

Ludlow, Ky., August 10.—(P)—Failing in his efforts to induce his wife, Mrs. O. Renaker, 35, to withdraw her action for divorce and become reconciled to him, William Renaker, 35, Southern railroad fireman, Ludlow, fired three bullets into her body at her home today.

Mrs. Renaker was taken to a hospital, where it was reported her condition was serious.

Renaker gave himself up to the police.

NEW SALES TAX BILL TO PROVIDE $4,000,000 SEEN

Revenue Measure Being Prepared in House Subcommittee To Meet Additional Appropriations.

Preparation of a general sales tax bill which will provide an estimated income of $4,000,000 annually, began Wednesday afternoon at a session of a subcommittee of the ways and means committee of the house. This measure will be introduced as early as possible as a substitute for the luxury tax section of the general tax bill. Representative Culpepper, chairman of the committee, announced at conclusion of the house session Wednesday.

In one of the most exciting sessions of the present session the house Wednesday afternoon passed the general appropriations bill exactly as recommended by the house sitting as a committee of the whole house by a vote of 104 to 61. As 104 votes is the required constitutional majority the vote of Speaker Richard B. Russell, Jr., was necessary to break the tie over the measure when the tabulation showed 103 votes for the measure and 61 against. The speaker's vote was the 104th and passed the bill.

Immediately after its passage Representative Daniel gave notice that he would move for a reconsideration at the Thursday session. Representative Neill then led a fight to have the measure immediately transmitted to the senate and this brought about a small filibuster, led by Representative Lindsey of DeKalb, which delayed a vote over the transmission motion until 6 o'clock arrived, the hour previously fixed for adjournment.

As the house Wednesday steadily increased appropriations for various state and educational institutions until the appropriations bill now carries total increases of $5,422,332 for the next two years, as compared to the preceding two years, the necessity of raising more revenue was stressed by speakers on the floor of the house and also by Governor L. G. Hardman in a special message to the legislature.

In the house Representative Doyle, of Floyd, chairman of the appropriations committee, urged the enactment of a sales tax as an emergency measure to produce needed revenue until 1928, when an income tax amendment can be submitted to the people for ratification. The Doyle income tax bill is expected to be brought to the floor of the house a few days.

Governor Backs Plans.

Governor Hardman in his message pointed out the short time remaining to complete tax measures. He recommended passage of a general sales tax and an income tax bill. The Doyle income tax bill carries a rate of 4 per cent.

Red Poetess Refuses Ride To Jail Cell

Sacco-Vanzetti Picketers To Walk to Boston Police Station.

Boston, August 10.—(United News.)—Dorothy Parker, Greenwich Village poetess, refused to ride to the police station in a patrol wagon when she and 38 other Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers were arrested today for picketing the state house.

"I'll walk," Mrs. Parker said when a big policeman ordered her into the patrol wagon. Other demonstrators seemed eager to take their places in the wagon when they were under arrest.

Ruth Hale, wife of Heywood Brown, New York columnist and critic, hurried out to obtain bail for the poetess who disappeared on foot in the direction of the police station.

The arrests were made when a large delegation surrounded the state house where Governor Alvan T. Fuller was debating the question of a last-minute reprieve.

The picketers, carrying banners demanding that the governor intervene in behalf of Sacco and Vanzetti, were allowed to continue their march for several minutes. Then, police broke up the demonstration and made 39 arrests when some of the picketers ignored commands to disperse. They were charged with sauntering and loitering.

COOLIDGE LAUDS FOUR PRESIDENTS AT BIG MEMORIAL

Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt Represented Fundamental Principles, He Says.

Keystone, S. D., August 10.—(P)—A mighty granite monument on which a memorial to Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt is to be inscribed, was dedicated by President Coolidge in the heart of the Black Hills today with an address in which he declared that the fundamental principles which the four presidents represented "have been wrought into the very being of our country."

If the ideals these men stood for are to be maintained, he said, it will be because future generations "continue to study the lives of the great men who have been leaders in our history and continue to support the principles which these men represented."

Urges Support of Shrine.

Pushing into the deep pine forests to honor the American presidents to whom the people of South Dakota have begun to rear this gigantic memorial, Mr. Coolidge called upon the country to support this project as a national shrine.

"We cannot hold our admiration for the historic figures which we shall see here," the president declared, "without growing stronger in our determination to perpetuate the institutions which their lives revealed and established."

The memorial, work on which was begun today by Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor, is intended to represent the growth of the American republic as pictured in the lives of four of its best loved presidents. As Mr. Coolidge declared, it seemed fitting that the memorial should be erected in the wilderness of this new state which is the heart of the American continent.

History and Art Combined.

FITCHETT AGAIN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Former Atlanta Policeman, Held in Chattanooga Jail in Donaldson Murder, Slashes Throat.

Chattanooga, Tenn., August 10.—(P)—Charles H. Fitchett, former Atlanta policeman, held in jail here in connection with the killing of Bert Donaldson, special investigator for Solicitor General Boykin, of Atlanta, made a second attempt to commit suicide in prison here early tonight, slashing his throat from ear to ear with a safety razor blade. His first attempt was made Sunday night, he having slashed his wrists and throat, being found weltering in blood on the floor of his cell. It was stated that a relative had taken the safety razor to the cell, stating that Fitchett wanted to shave himself. A physician was hastily summoned and stopped the flow of blood.

Jail officials stated that Fitchett informed them that he was despondent because of his long imprisonment. Members of the jail staff expressed it as their opinion that Fitchett was shamming insanity in preparation for his coming trial in Atlanta in connection with the Donaldson murder. They stated that Fitchett did not appear to be insane.

Alleged "confession" of Fitchett in connection with the Donaldson murder, provided a sensation in Atlanta several months ago. The confession, which was later repudiated by Fitchett, was passed "white" he was a prisoner in the Hamilton county jail awaiting trial on a local charge of forgery.

The confession was alleged to have been made by Fitchett a hit at a time, first to certain of his intimates, later to Attorney George W. Chambliss, who was representing him in the forgery case, for which the prisoner had been arrested in Atlanta and brought to Chattanooga some time previously.

Fitchett's first "confession" was to the effect that he fired the shot which killed Donaldson, who was murdered on the night of July 29, 1926, in a room in the fashionable Georgian Terrace hotel. Two loads of buckshot were fired into Donaldson's back by an assassin ambushed in a clothes closet after the former had been lured to the hotel room by a group of alleged gangsters and denizens of Atlanta's underworld.

Fuller Grants Reprieve Pending Court Action

GOVERNOR AND JUDGES MAKE STATEMENTS

Boston, August 10.—(P)—A formal statement announcing that a reprieve had been granted Sacco and Vanzetti was given out by Governor Fuller at midnight. It said that the governor had recommended the 12-day reprieve and that the council had unanimously approved it.

At the same time statements by Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the United States supreme court, Judge George W. Anderson, of the United States circuit court, and Attorney General Arthur K. Reading were issued from the governor's office.

The statements of Justices Holmes and Anderson were in explanation of their denial to issue writs of habeas corpus.

Governor Fuller.

The governor's statement follows: "The courts of the commonwealth are actively engaged in the work of considering and deciding the various motions and petitions filed by the counsel in these cases. The courts themselves have no power to grant a reprieve."

"To afford the courts an opportunity to complete the consideration of the proceedings now pending and render their decision thereon, I have recommended to the executive council that the sentences of Sacco, Vanzetti and Madeiros be respite for 12 days, or until midnight on Monday, August 22, 1927."

"The council has unanimously adopted this recommendation. Prior to its adoption it was recommended by the attorney general."

Justice Holmes.

The statement of Justice Holmes, also denying the writ follows: "This petition was presented to me this tenth day of August, 1927, and was argued at counsel as it may seem, a circuit judge might take a different view. Moore vs. Dempsey, 261, U. S. 88, relied upon by petitioner, I think conclusive against them when read with the petition and its supporting affidavits. I have on this record no right to interfere with the legal processes of the courts of Massachusetts."

Attorney General Reading.

Attorney General Reading's statement was: "This afternoon Arthur D. Hill, State Prison, Charlestown, Mass., August 10.—(United News.) A scant half-hour before the time set for their execution in the electric chair at the Massachusetts state prison, Sacco and Vanzetti were granted a reprieve which provides they are to live until at least August 22."

Literally in shadow of death, prepared according to the Massachusetts law for death by electrocution, the men whose fate became an international "affair" were told that Governor Alvan T. Fuller had decided to spare their lives, that counsel may fight to save them from execution.

A day in which despair mingled with hope and a night in which even the counsel of the condemned declared that they were doomed, ended when word came to the state prison not to carry out the sentence of death.

Reprieve Is Brief.

The reprieve granted the condemned men was brief, but fraught with possibilities for further action on their behalf.

"Until August 22, 1927," read the official word from the governor, which reached the prison only half an hour before the day on which Sacco and Vanzetti had been doomed to die.

When word of the reprieve spread, crowds which had been held at a safe distance from the prison by an unprecedented mobilization of mounted and foot police melted away, and newsmen streamed the word to the city which, like the condemned men, had given up hope.

Within the prison the first thought was to convey word to the men whose identities had become merged into a world-famous "cause celebre."

In addition to the reprieve granted Sacco and Vanzetti, the governor had extended the term of life for Celestino Madeiros, a young Portuguese who was to have died in the electric chair for a different crime than that with which the Italians were charged.

Reds Are Notified.

Through the prison corridors to the death cells where the condemned men crouched, waiting, the warden carried the news. Sacco, 25 days on a hunger strike, too weak to rise from his prison cot, made no response to the announcement. Madeiros, prepared for death, and connected with the "affair" only by virtue of a discredited "confession,"

Rockefeller Recalls Youth As He Visits Boyhood Home

TELLS HOW HE MADE FIRST MONEY

Auburn, N. Y., August 10.—(P)—John D. Rockefeller today came back to the scenes of his boyhood among the Finger lakes and took motion pictures of three former homes and familiar spots where he earned his first money, learned to swim and caught perch with a bent pin rig.

"I'm coming back every year as long as I live and am able," he promised, "but if infirmities prevent I will have these pictures to refresh fond memories."

The oil king this noon at Cascade on Owase lake dined on trout out of the same waters he fished as a boy under ten. And after eating, he held up the start back long enough to be photographed with the chef, who, he said, "had broiled those beauties just like mother used to do over there across the lake."

Last night Rockefeller and a party of five spent the night in Owego, three miles east of which he lived from 1849 to 1853. This morning he visited his old home there, went on to another humble abode, where he was born on old Michigan Hill, four miles from Richford, and then motored up to Moravia, near Owaseo lake. Before dinner he visited the spot on the east shore of the lake where he lived from 1843 to 1849 in a house burned down two years ago when used by a convict road camp. Tonight he slept in the land of his boyhood in Owego and tomorrow will leave for his Pecan hills, North Tarrytown, stopping at noon at Roscoe.

Chicago's "Riot Girl"

FLAPPER JOAN OF ARC

Chicago, August 10.—(AP)—Chicago's "riot girl," a new leader of the radical element not previously recognized by the police, is 19-year-old Aurora d'Angelo, a pre-law student at Crane Technical High school.

She, with two other women and 24 men, was held by the police today on open charges after her screaming exhortations last night had turned a peaceful indoor protest meeting against the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti into a wildly excited mob of approximately 3,000, which started a midnight parade toward Chicago's downtown district.

With their modern Joan of Arc screaming and gesticulating at their head, the paraders finally broke ranks and ran for cover under the charge of police automobiles and the judicious scattering of tear bombs by the police.

Finally Sobs. Miss d'Angelo remained defiant until she was firmly pinned in a police automobile, where her wild frenzy changed to a tearful pleading that "aw, I'm only a kid; ain't this a free country?"

Afoot and in flimsy garments little Aurora had not the advantage of an armored, equestrian Joan of Arc. She was swept aside in rush after rush, and her flimsy flapper clothing nearly was torn from her.

From almost the opening of the protest meeting in carmen's hall, the high school girl was one of the leaders in an effort to turn it into what termed "a real demonstration." Repeatedly she was squelched by Anton.

Then after the meeting was terminated, Miss d'Angelo and a group of Johnnussen, business agent of the carpenters' district council, who sought to keep the meeting within the bounds of a legitimate protest.

Calls for Parade. "I'm only a kid," she yelled from the top of an automobile, "but I guess I've followed these meetings long enough to know what I'm talking about. Let me talk! Let me talk!"

"Do you think I'd have gotten that excited if it weren't for the police question as to whether it was her first meeting."

"My parents are Italian born. My father was an anarchist and I am an anarchist. I know how these people are suffering and what this means to my class, and I'll gladly go to jail for it."

The girl lives with her step-father, Lewis Bozzi.

Girl Takes Lead. The meeting at the auditorium had passed quietly enough, the 3,000 who attended passing resolutions of protest against the Sacco-Vanzetti executions and then moving out in orderly fashion to the street. There they congregated, being joined by others, with a few leaders calling for a protest parade into the loop.

The girl was among them and at once took command.

"I'm an anarchist," she cried, "and my father was an anarchist. Follow me!"

The street was soon filled for three blocks with men and women, massed from curb to curb and moving toward the loop.

As the mob surged forward it picked up recruits. The first violence came when those at the front seized an automobile, slashed its tires, broke its windows and swept on leaving the driver terror-stricken.

Next a street car was halted, the trolley pulled from the wire, while men and women crowded aboard shouting "strike! strike! strike!" terrorizing the passengers. Another car was halted and the same scene repeated.

By the time the parade neared the downtown district police reserves were being called to meet the march and as the procession swung toward an intersection it was met with tear bombs and threatening pistols in the hands of the reserves.

Police Charge Mob. The collapse of the demonstration was even more dramatic than its inception. Breaking before the police wall moving toward them, members of the crowd sought safety in flight. Those in front found their retreat blocked by the forward movement of the thousands behind.

Several rioters were trapped in the wild scramble to escape. Windows were shattered, doors broken down and motor cars parked at the curbs were damaged. A check, however, indicated that no one was seriously injured.

In a police car the girl sobbed: "I'm only a kid," she kept repeating. "Ain't this a free country? I know what this means to my people, and I'm ready to go to jail for it."

The girl, it developed, has been taking a high school course preparatory to the study of law. One of her lieutenants in the demonstration was a University of Chicago student, Dave Wolins, 22, who accompanied her in her dash from the police and who was arrested with her. Wolins was described as one of the founders of the Liberal league. The police said that three years ago he was expelled from Northwestern university for causing a near riot on the campus in a protest against secret societies.

COOLIDGE ASKED TO "SUGGEST" MERCY. Baltimore, Md., August 10.—(AP)—President Coolidge was asked to "suggest" to Governor Fuller the wisdom of pardoning Sacco and Vanzetti or commutating their sentences.

ROCHESTER FORMS EXTRA GUARDS. Rochester, N. Y., August 10.—(AP)—Every law enforcement agency in this city was mobilized at full strength tonight, following upon the second day's strike of between 15,000 and 20,000 Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers.

The trouble started when the parade, on its way to Convention hall for a mass meeting, passed the Eastman Kodak company's plant. Employees of the plant hurled small missiles on the heads of the parading strikers, one of whom moved to throw a club toward the building.

Motorcycle. Policeman John McGrath seized the man, and as he did so the entire crowd bore down on the officer, beating him into unconsciousness. A riot call brought the police reserves, who dispersed the mob. McGrath was taken to a hospital suffering from concussion of the brain, cuts and bruises.

REDS THREATEN AMERICAN LEGATION. Copenhagen, Denmark, August 10.—(AP)—The American minister, H. Percival Dodge, and members of the legation have received letters purporting to come from communists threatening vengeance against the American officials if Sacco and Vanzetti are executed. The avowed communists in Copenhagen are very few and the police have paid little attention to them thus far.

AMERICAN LEGATION IN WARSAW GUARDED. Warsaw, Poland, August 10.—(AP)—A force of 20 policemen, who went on duty last night, today surrounded the American legation in course of the day, arresting four passersby who seemed suspicious.

The American legation has received in all five protests against the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti. It was stated that this was considered unusually small, inasmuch as hundreds of letters and telegrams have been received on occasions when any issue occupied much attention here.

SEVEN ARE ARRESTED IN TORONTO PROTEST. Toronto, Ontario, August 10.—(AP)—Seven workers, five men and two women, who carried banners along the street in front of the United States consulate here this afternoon, were charged with being disorderly but no charge had yet been laid against the women.

The arrests broke up a small crowd, mostly onlookers, which had gathered before the consulate. The workers carried banners bearing such inscriptions as "Stop this judicial murder," "Release Sacco and Vanzetti," and "Sacco and Vanzetti must not die."

SOLDIERS GUARD OHIO GOVERNOR. Columbus, Ohio, August 10.—(AP)—Squads of Ohio national guardsmen tonight guarded the state capital and governor's mansion as the hour of the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti approached. The guards, members of company 1, 100th infantry, were stationed at noon, supplementing city police and plainclothesmen previously assigned.

The guardsmen, armed with rifles, paced before the governor's office, near the rotunda of the capitol, at the state house entrances and the mansion gates, and were relieved every two hours.

ARMED RED FOUND ENTERING EMBASSY. Sydney, Australia, August 10.—(United News).—Special detailed police tonight arrested a man, armed, they announced, with "an offensive weapon" and believed to be a Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizer, who was about to enter the house of American Consul Ezra M. Lawton.

MEXICO CITY COPS PROTECT EMBASSY. Mexico City, August 10.—(AP)—A squad of motorcycle police took up their positions in the streets near the United States embassy late today, reinforcing the guards around the embassy, to prevent any possible anti-American demonstrations in connection with the Sacco-Vanzetti case. The guards about the embassy already had been twice increased.

About noon, as an expression of sympathy with Sacco and Vanzetti, workers of the Federation of Labor agitators of the federal district suspended all activities for 15 minutes. Otherwise the day passed without incident, but with the intense interest in the condemned men continuing in labor circles.

POPE REQUESTED TO ASK CLEMENCY FOR DOOMED REDS. New York, August 10.—(AP)—Intervention of Pope Pius XI was requested today by the Sacco-Vanzetti liberation committee, a local organization of sympathizers with the condemned men in a cablegram addressed to the Vatican in Rome.

The cable read in part: "The pharisees of Massachusetts will kill them over the protests of the people. Your intervention would be in keeping with the Christian religion."

Sacco and Vanzetti are professed atheists.

PAPER SUSPENDED FOR PUBLISHING NEWS OF SACCO. Hendaye, France, August 10.—(AP)—The Madrid newspaper Socialista, has been suspended for eight days as punishment for publishing the news of the telegram from New York mentioning the Sacco-Vanzetti case, says advice from across the Spanish frontier.

News concerning Sacco and Vanzetti upon it have absolutely been prohibited by the censorship in Spain.

For more than a year the American embassy and consulate in Madrid have been guarded by uniformed police and detectives.

BAND CONCERTS ARE CALLED OFF AS PRECAUTION. Washington, August 10.—(United News).—As a precautionary measure, weekly concerts by the marine and army bands on the capitol grounds were called off today by David Lynn, architect of the capitol.

Lynn stated that available capitol police were needed for guard duty in public buildings, and that none could be spared to handle traffic created by the concerts.

All government buildings are being heavily guarded, although no cause for anticipating trouble has been given.

GOVERNOR FULLER EXPLAINS RESPITE. Continued from First Page. William G. Thompson and Elias Field waited upon Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the supreme court of the United States, at Beverly as he presented to the justice a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti. They argued the petition at length.

"This was an ex-parte hearing and the commonwealth of Massachusetts was not represented by counsel. Mr. Justice Holmes after hearing Mr. Hill and Mr. Thompson decided that as he understood the petition and affidavits they contained no fact which would warrant his issuing the writ, and ruled that even if Judge Thayer had been strongly prejudiced against Sacco and Vanzetti, that fact would not deprive Judge Thayer of jurisdiction and legal power to decide the case, because in Mr. Justice Holmes' opinion nothing short of a want of legal power to decide the case would authorize him (Mr. Justice Holmes) to interfere in a summary manner with the proceedings of the state court.

"The attorney general stated that it should not be understood that Mr. Justice Holmes' decision was even ready to find that Judge Thayer had been prejudiced, but simply ruled that even if it should be found that Judge Thayer was prejudiced, there would be no occasion for Mr. Justice Holmes to interfere."

Court Session Called. Richard Murray, messenger for the Massachusetts supreme court, received word of the decision within a few minutes after it was announced at the state house and immediately left to telegraph the members of the court that a session would be held next Monday or Tuesday to hear the bill of exceptions filed by the defense counsel to the decision of Judge Sanderson, denying the petition for a writ of error. Judge Sanderson announced today that he would render his decision on the defense counsel's application to take the exceptions before the full bench of the court tomorrow.

The executive council of the governor, which had been at the state house since noon with only brief intervals for lunch and dinner, left in a body soon after the decision was officially announced at the governor's office at midnight.

None would discuss the case officially but it was intimated that the reason for the long time required to approve the recommendation of the governor was the strong opposition felt by several to the granting of a respite. They eventually came to a unanimous agreement to support the governor.

Governor Fuller and his personal counsel left the building soon after the court. The governor appeared very tired from the strain of his long day.

little for them to see save the towering stones, and they departed.

Entire City Is Quiet. The city in which Sacco and Vanzetti were to have died, in which they still must die unless their new counsel intervenes between now and midnight of August 22, was quiet throughout the trying hours of Wednesday evening.

There was no demonstration in the vicinity of the prison. The police, some on horseback, some in motorcycles hissing with rattling guns and hundreds afoot, paraded about but had no trouble with which to contend.

Far from the prison, fended off by ready clubs and menacing bayonets, the sad-faced Italians and other sympathizers stood hour after hour, restlessly, peering in the direction of the prison.

For the benefit of the motion picture photographers, the mounted state police, by the light of huge flares, wheeled their horses and swung through their maneuvers.

It was as though some holiday event was in progress. The death of Sacco and Vanzetti was being celebrated for the benefit of the press. The quiet about the prison was broken occasionally as some motorcycle would snarl into action.

Quiet of Death. Inside the prison, the quiet which had been taken for the quiet of death, was maintained.

When a few hundred curious folk of the neighborhood came to the prison in session, they were at the door upon a deserted castle which no longer held the mystery of death. Finding this missing, the crowd slowly dispersed.

One agitated figure puffed at a cigarette.

RESPITES GRANTED SACCO, VANZETTI

Continued from First Page. fession" in which he sought to exonerate Sacco and Vanzetti, was equally undemonstrative.

But when Vanzetti, fish-peddler philosopher, came to the bars of the cell his tired eyes had a sparkle. "He greeted the warden's announcement with these words: "I am glad. I wanted to see my sister before I had to die."

Premature Announcement. The official word that Sacco and Vanzetti were to live 12 days more—the respite is until August 22—inclusive—was preceded by a premature announcement on the part of the warden.

"A respite has been granted to all three," Warden Hendry told those who crowded about his office within the prison walls.

The word spread. It reached the prison in the depths of the death house. It roused the crowds waiting six blocks from the prison, held back by a stern cordon of state and city police. They looked on with interest and was received according to the sympathies of the recipients.

Then, as though fate continued to play with the lives of the men who had been condemned for murders committed in the little Massachusetts town of South Braintree seven years or more ago, the warden cried from his office doorway:

"Hold up that announcement!"

Confusion Reigns. Those within the prison were thrown into confusion. Could it be that the announcement had been untrue?

For a moment it seemed as if word came from the statehouse that at the time when Warden Hendry made his first announcement of a respite the governor's council had not been in session. Its members were at the state house, ready for action, but not actually meeting. It was deemed advisable to wait until the council had ratified the governor's decision.

Hence the delay.

ITALIAN-JUGO CLASHES REPORTED IN DALMATIA. London, August 10.—(AP)—The Jugo-Slavian newspaper Vreme published in Belgrade reports that Italian-Jugo Slav disturbances have occurred at Zeta, Dalmatia, says a Reuters dispatch from Budapest.

Clear and had difficulty in maintaining his poise.

Warden Hendry, obviously unnerved by his premature announcement, scarcely was able to sign the receipt for the papers granting the respite when they were handed to him by Captain Beaupre. The warden's hand shook and he remarked to those about him:

"You'll have to excuse me. I'm a bit nervous."

The warden explained the mystery of the premature announcement in the following manner:

A man close to Governor Fuller at the state house had telephoned to the prison at 10:20 advising him that a respite had been granted for all three prisoners.

The warden left his office to advise Sacco, Vanzetti and Madeiros that they were to live.

Immediately afterwards, a call came through to the warden's office from the state house, telling him not to make the decision public.

The governor's council had not been in session. Its members were at the state house, ready for action, but not actually meeting. It was deemed advisable to wait until the council had ratified the governor's decision.

Hence the delay.

Fuller Is Firm Believer

DECLARES IT IS CRIME DETERRENT

In Imposing Death Penalty

Boston, August 10.—(AP)—Governor Alvan T. Fuller, around whom have centered the last phases of the fight to save Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, has repeatedly expressed the belief that capital punishment is a crime deterrent.

Including the cases of Sacco, Vanzetti and Celestino Madeiros, Governor Fuller has refused to extend clemency to seven men.

"Only a cold, unerring threat at his own life gives the criminal pause," the governor said in explaining his attitude in refusing clemency to the first man electrocuted during his incumbency. That man, Richard Stewart, Wilmington negro, was electrocuted. The governor's attitude was more fully explained when he refused clemency to John D. Deyereaux, John C. Coughlin and Edward J. Heinelein, the "czar barn bandits." They, too, died in the chair.

One thing I have particularly emphasized," the governor said, explaining his refusal of clemency in these cases, "is that strict enforcement of the law of capital punishment for those who have taken human life. I believe in it as the only thing to check wanton crimes of violence." He added that he maintained this belief under all manner of pressure exerted to save condemned men.

However, the governor, in each case convinced himself of the guilt of the person condemned. In the case of Sacco and Vanzetti, he spent three months in investigating the evidence, interviewing jurors, witnesses and the condemned. He appointed an advisory board and the three men on it approved his findings. Threats against his life did not move him.

Governor Fuller was born in Boston, February 17, 1878. He was educated here and abroad. He expanded a bicycle repair shop in his suburban home town of Malden into the present Packard Motor Car Company of Boston, one of the largest automobile agencies in New England.

His first venture in politics landed him in the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1915. The next year he was made a delegate to the republican national convention. From 1917 to 1921 he was congressman from the ninth district, resigning when he was elected lieutenant governor. He was re-elected governor last year.

He is known as a discriminating art collector and patron, furniture and paintings being his chief hobby.

ARGENTINES CHEER REDS WILL APPEAL NEWS OF RESPITE TO SUPREME COURT

Buenos Aires, Argentina, August 10.—(AP)—The anxiously awaited news of a respite for Sacco and Vanzetti was greeted joyfully by thousands who learned of it almost instantly through special signals used by several newspapers in Buenos Aires.

Crowds rushed to the bulletin boards and cheered, shouting "Long live Sacco and Vanzetti!"

In the interior places the people heard the news over the radio.

Richard Murray, official messenger of the supreme court, has dispatched messages to members of the supreme court in Massachusetts, directing them to be present in Boston Monday or Tuesday of next week.

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the United States supreme court, and George W. Anderson, of the federal court, both have declared that they have no jurisdiction to issue a writ of habeas corpus for the condemned men at the present time.

A number of other appeals, not outlined in detail by Arthur D. Hill, chief counsel for the defense, are contemplated.

NIMBLE-FINGERED THIEF TAKES $740 FROM CAFE SAFE

Robbery of $740 in cash from the safe of Brodie's Cafe, 60 Peachtree street, early Wednesday morning by a burglar who carefully concealed his activities, was disclosed by police records.

The back door of the cafe was found unlocked by Patrolman J. B. Simpson, about 1 o'clock in the morning. The officer entered and investigated, but could find nothing disturbed, the report stated. He then nailed the door up and proceeded on his beat.

When the cafe was opened later in the morning it was discovered that an intruder had worked the safe's combination and chiseled into the inner safe door, making away with the large sum of cash. Police are making every effort to establish the identity of the burglar from the meager clues obtained.

WAR DEPARTMENT

CROP CONDITIONS REPORTED BETTER

Washington, August 10.—(P)—With few exceptions, improvement in crop prospects during July was reported today by the agricultural department, which said that corn showed an increase of 110,000,000 bushels over the report of a month ago.

Corn production is now forecast at 2,385,228,000 bushels, the smallest crop in 26 years. Winter wheat declined 28,000,000 bushels since July 1, the preliminary estimate placing production at 552,767,000 bushels. Spring wheat improved 24,000,000 bushels in the month, with a total of 238,000,000 bushels now indicated.

The improvement in crops was due chiefly to a more evenly distributed rainfall, the department said. At present no extensive area of the country is suffering from drought, or from excessive rain; temperatures have been moderate in most states, and during recent weeks crops have made good growth.

Corn, oats and most fruits are now the only important crops expected to show acre yields appreciably below the average of the last ten years, and the yield of all crops combined is expected to be only 1 per cent below the ten-year average.

Frost May Hurt.
While the improvement of the corn crop was general during July, the department said, much of the crop is so late that only an unusually late, warm fall will prevent serious frost damage. Abandonment will undoubtedly be considerably above average throughout most of the corn belt, it was added, due to poor stands and failure of late-planted corn to make satisfactory growth.

Winter wheat yields average 141.2 bushels per acre, which is 2.12 bushels less than last year. The quality of the crop is 85.5 per cent, compared with 90.1 per cent, the ten-year average. In connection with the improved outlook for spring wheat, field statisticians say that since August 1, the menace of rust damage is increasing. The combined winter and spring wheat crop total 831,145,000 bushels, which is 18,000,000 bushels more than last year and 42,000,000 bushels more than the average of the last five years.

Prospects for white potatoes improved in all sections and present indications are for 411,000,000 bushels as compared with 394,000,000, the five-year average. Tobacco improved to the extent of 39,000,000 pounds, with a total of 1,338,000,000 pounds now indicated.

Fruit prospects, which were very unpromising a month ago, declined still further during July, the apple crop falling off 3,000,000 bushels. The indicated production of crops is: Oats, 1,278,741,000 bushels; wheat, 249,000,000; rye, 61,500,000; 43.3; grapefruit (Florida), 60.0; wheat, 15,400,000; flax seed, 23,300,000; rice, 39,300,000; sugar beets, 6,850,000 tons; white potatoes, 411,000,000 bushels; sweet potatoes, 87,500,000 bushels; tobacco, 1,338,000,000 pounds; hops, 31,700,000 pounds; beans (dry, edible), 18,700,000 bushels; peanuts, 25,400,000 pounds; hay (all tame) 102,000,000 tons; apples, 128,000,000 bushels; peaches, 44,880,000 bushels; pears, 18,000,000 bushels; grapes, 12,540,000 tons.

The indicated production of important crops in southern states, as announced today by the department of agriculture from their August 1 condition, is:

Tobacco—Maryland, 25,302,000 pounds; Virginia, 138,068,000; North Carolina, 421,742,000; South Carolina, 68,705,000; Georgia, 48,952,000; Florida, 6,251,000; Kentucky, 202,202,000; Tennessee, 58,172,000; Louisiana, 385,000.

18 LARGE CRUISERS NEW NAVY PROGRAM

Washington, August 10.—(P)—While no official statement has been made, it is understood here that in proposing a cruiser tonnage of from 250,000 to 300,000 tons at General the American government figures upon a maximum of eighteen 10,000-ton cruisers for this country.

Eight such craft now have been contracted for and the other ten undoubtedly will be authorized by congress in the near future. The speed with which they are to be built probably was one of the subjects discussed by President Coolidge and Secretary of the Navy.

Naval thought here now is that two of these craft should be laid down each year, spreading their construction over a five-year period. If that plan is followed, the cruiser fleet would not be completed until 1935.

Eighteen 10,000-ton cruisers would total 180,000 tons, which, added to the 75,000 tons in the ten light cruisers of the Memphis type now in commission, would give the United States a grand total of 255,000 tons.

Great Britain sought to limit sharply the 10,000-ton class of craft, proposing only 12 each for itself and the United States, with eight for Japan. In addition, it proposed that each country be permitted to build a large fleet of 6,000-ton craft mounting six-inch guns as against eight-inch guns on the larger vessels.

To this the United States dissented, its representatives holding that this country was so situated geographically that it needed a larger fleet than America's peculiar needs.

AUTO PLUNGES IN EAST RIVER; 3 MEN DROWN
(By Leased Wire to the Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
New York, August 10.—Warning shouts from workers along the street that the river lay just ahead failed to carry to the ears of two men in a 1920 model sedan as it raced east along the street early today and the automobile plunged off the dark stringpiece into the East river. Both occupants are believed to have drowned.

The unidentified body of a third man, believed to have been a dock worker, who was asleep on the stringpiece and was knocked into the water by the automobile and drowned, was found by police who grappled in the river there.

This man's death from the accident was not known until his body was found. After this body was found, police found the body of Charles Freund, of Oyster Bay, L. I. The search for the third victim was continued fruitlessly all day. Mrs. May Freund, widow of Charles, could not say with whom her husband had been driving in her car.

BREATHITT AHEAD IN LT. GOVERNOR'S RACE IN KENTUCKY
Louisville, August 10.—(P)—James Breathitt, Jr., of Hopkinsville, was leading Albert E. Barker, of E. Barker, his nearest opponent by a plurality of 6,752 votes in the race for the democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, when half the state had reported today. Edgar H. James, of Louisville, was third, while Elmer C. Roberts and W. E. Woodrow were running behind.

The vote for the leaders was: Breathitt, 38,254; Barker, 32,502; and James, 25,813.

E. B. Nelson, of Williamsburg, continued to lead in the republican race for lieutenant governor, having a plurality of 1,336 in the five-circled race. He was leading Tom Winter-Smith, of Louisville, by 13,726 votes to 12,390. The other three candidates were well behind.

Nomination of J. C. W. Beckham for governor by the democrats and Flem D. Sampson by the republicans has been conceded by their opponents.

BOOZE CLUB CASE TRIAL ORDERED IN TAMPA COURT
Tampa, Fla., August 10.—(P)—Writ of prohibition to prevent Municipal Judge Leo Stalaker, hearing the "Booze club" case, was denied today by Judge L. L. Parks in circuit court. The case is set for trial in municipal court, but Judge Stalaker declined today to say whether he would show motion pictures of "customers" entering and leaving the downtown club.

C. J. Hardee, attorney for A. A. Cerf, arrested in a raid on the club, was granted opportunity to appeal tomorrow in circuit court relative to an appeal to the state supreme court on the decision of Judge Parks today.

MOUNT GILEAD MEETING DRAWS RECORD CROWD
Record attendance marked the religious services Wednesday at the Mount Gilead camp meeting, held eight miles from Atlanta near Ben Hill. The Rev. John C. Patty, leading the services, which have been going on for several days, took for his subject Wednesday night "The End of the World."

A new addition to the camp meeting is the system of electric lights that have been strung throughout the grounds. Featuring the musical program is a chorus choir under direction of Charles Tillman. Services are held at 7 o'clock in the morning and at 3 and 7:30 p. m.

SOUTHERN FREIGHT REVISION DENIED

Washington, August 10.—(P)—A refusal to modify the previous decision by which it has sought to shape a general revision of classified freight rates affecting the southeastern quarter of the United States was returned yesterday from interstate commerce commission consideration of petitions by railroads which sought various modifications in the general plan.

After considering all of the petitions for alteration of its projected southern class rate systems, the commission refused to make material changes.

In its opinion, nothing presented justifies material changes in the bases heretofore prescribed for application to traffic via Ohio river gateways, the commission said in disposing of one contention for amendment.

Railroads also sought changes in the rates applying to and from the Carolinas over routes through the Virginia cities classified as railroad gateways. These demands also the commission generally rejected.

In outlining groups in trunk line and New England territory for the purpose of shipping, and from the south, however, railroads have modified the original commission plan, largely for reasons of convenience, the decision said. These changes in the eastern groups the commission held in most cases to be justified, and the railroad proposals relating to them were allowed to become effective.

A further point in the class-rate revision was the settlement of key rates from important centers in northern territory to the south, and the railroads in a point petition asked that most of these be increased by 3 cents per hundred pounds on first-class freight, with proportionate increases for other classes. The request for the higher charges was in part held to be reasonable and the carriers engaged in preparing schedules were advised that they might make the key-rate levels equal to those resulting from the application of the distance scale laid down for general application in the previous decision. In this connection the commission rejected a demand of Florida railroads for a higher rate base than that allowed them in the previous decision. All classified freight rates made under terms of the original decision and of the supplemental order announced yesterday must be submitted again to the commission for consideration before the charges become effective.

WEST POINT-ATLANTA ROAD TO BE PAVED
West Point, Ga., August 10.—(Special.)—While on a visit to the Hexagon club a few nights ago, Judge Fennell, chairman of the Alabama state highway board, announced the determination of the board to proceed with the paving of that portion of Alabama highway No. 11, extending from the A. & W. P. railroad crossing at Lanett, to the Lee county line below Fairfax. This will give a continuous pavement from West Point to Lanett, and the project is completed.

Life of Sacco Will Be Saved Family Believes

Torre Maggiore, Apulia, Italy, August 10.—(P)—The family of Nicola Sacco, expressing firm belief in his innocence, tonight had not lost faith in the possibility that he still might be saved from execution.

"During the last seven years we have had many terrible moments like these and every time Nicola was saved," said Sabino, a brother. "Why should we despair now?"

Sabino was with Nicola in the United States at one time. "They won't kill him because he is as innocent as he is my son," said Sacco's aged father.

Sabino asserted that his brother was trying to get a passport to return to Italy on the day of the murders, having made the decision because of the death of his mother a short time before. Any idea that Nicola committed the crime for money was absurd, Sabino declared, because he always made more than a good living.

CHAIN STORE TAX STRONGLY FOUGHT

Atlanta attorney, declared that there are 1,000 chain stores in Georgia operating on foreign capital and, he said, throttling the small grocers by lowering prices to a point independent grocers cannot hope to meet.

C. V. Hohenstein, secretary of the Atlanta Retail Merchants' association, protested against the tax in behalf of his organization, membership of which, he said, was composed of nine-tenths independent dealers and one-tenth chain stores.

Others who appeared in opposition to the tax included Joe Jacobs, Atlanta pharmacist; William Schley Howard, Atlanta attorney, who stated that he spoke in the interest of his domestic budget, and Howard Hirsch, Atlanta attorney, representing the Rogers chain stores.

Representatives of many large gasoline distributors also appeared before the committee to protest the imposition of what they termed a double tax.

A delegation of prominent Atlanta insurance men, including representatives of life, fire and liability divisions, appeared to contest a provision of the tax act that would increase the 14-cent tax on gross premiums to 2 cents. It was their contention that a tax on insurance is in effect a tax on thrift and works a discrimination against policy owners in favor of those who do not insure.

Insurance men declared that the tax would of necessity be passed on to the policyholder with the company levies imposed on insurance should be no more than is needed to supervise insurance companies by the state agency, was a point taken by the various witnesses.

TENNESSEE GAME REFUGE APPROVED IN UNAKA FOREST

Nashville, Tenn., August 10.—(P)—Establishment of a state game refuge in the Unaka national forest, to be patrolled by state wardens, is approved by Sam R. Broadbent, Bristol, forest supervisor, State Game Warden George J. Calhoun announced today.

The tract desired by the Erwin sportsmen is located near this city. It is 24 square miles in area and already contains some bear, deer and rare mountain pheasant.

SLAYER 'IDENTIFIED' YET SHERIFF DOUBTS
Memphis, Tenn., August 10.—(P)—Although identified by four persons as the slayer of Harry Harwell, 24, a bricklayer, Sheriff Will S. Knight was not certain today that Harry J. Tracy, 33, negro, held on a charge of murder, is the man sought. He planned to bring other witnesses of Harwell's death before Tracy today. The suspect denied that he killed the bricklayer.

Harwell was held up by a negro Saturday, May 21, as he was leaving his work and robbed of his pay envelope. He pursued the robber until the latter wheeled and shot him down. Harwell was to have been married that evening.

RHEUMATISM
May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunate who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S. For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs. . . then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best."—C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building up so that your system throws off the cause.

From youth to later years S.S.S. is a proven tonic—give it and take it as a tonic is indicated. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best."—(adv.)

Oil Burners
The New Steel Moncrief
Whether your oil burner is to be installed now or at some future time, the New Improved Steel Moncrief, with either coal or oil for fuel, is the ideal furnace for your home.
It is constructed of triple-vented boiler-plate steel with all joints securely welded or riveted. Smoke and odors cannot possibly escape. It is lined with the best fire-brick obtainable, and to change from coal to oil, it is only necessary to remove the grates. Leading oil burner manufacturers recommend the New Improved Steel Moncrief as being especially suitable for their equipment.

MODERATE TAX CUT FAVORED

(By Leased Wire to the Constitution and the Chicago Tribune.)

Washington, August 10.—Emphasis placed upon savings in interest payments in an address to Acting Secretaries of the Treasury and the Comptroller of the Currency today at the institute of public affairs of the University of Virginia is regarded as indicating that the administration will not attempt to reduce to a moderate tax reduction at the coming session of congress.

While Mr. Mills did not refer to the approaching tax revision, his discussion of the effect of the proposed rapid reduction in the public debt during the past half dozen years, was interpreted as meaning that the treasury will not attempt to effect a sudden Coolidge will insist upon holding tax revenues at a high enough level to insure substantial cuts in the debt each year.

In view of the declaration by H. M. Lord, director of the budget, at the Virginia institute that the surplus for the fiscal year 1921 was "in excess of $200,000,000," it is regarded as likely that the treasury will seek to hold the tax reduction down to about 10 per cent. That is, that the $335,000,000 during the fiscal year 1921. The democrats and some republican groups are certain to demand a reduction of from $300,000,000 to $200,000,000.

Mr. Mills in his address pointed out that the reduction in the debt since 1921, when the republicans came into power, had been effected by a reduction in interest charges of not less than $200,000,000. Furthermore, through reduction in interest rates made possible by the improvement in the credit situation there has been a further saving of $60,000,000 a year, a total lowering of interest charges of $260,000,000.

It is pointed out that the administration intends that the debt shall be reduced each year, not only by the amount of the statutory sinking fund but also by the receipts from the nation's bonds, but also by at least $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 besides.

U. S. STEEL'S UNFILLED ORDERS SHOW GAIN

New York, August 10.—(AP)—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation on July 31, made public at noon today, totaled 3,142,014 tons, an increase of 88,768 tons, compared with those at the end of the preceding month.

Chicago, August 10. (AP)—Another double murder tentatively was attributed today to Chicago gangland activities with discovery on a county farm of the bodies of two men who had been shot to death. They were not identified. Neither of the men was more than 30 years old. Both wore new clothes and were in the pockets of one was $340, while the other had $147 in his clothes. He also wore a diamond ring.

Both were handcuffed and taken to room 231, Myland hotel, Chicago. Two unidentified men found in that room soon after the discovery of the crime were held for investigation.

Two farmers, who found the bodies, said he had heard shots about 10 o'clock last night, but thought the noise was from an automobile back-

SAVE THE COTTON.

The summary of crop conditions throughout the cotton belt, released by the United States department of agriculture Wednesday, says as to Georgia, "Weevil worse than for several years."

This is confirmatory of the advice to The Constitution which have been responsible for its insistence that cotton farmers get active in the fight for weevil control. Time and time again during the growing season The Constitution has declared that the statistical position of cotton would necessarily force the prices of cotton up, and that the one outstanding duty of the farmer was to begin the fight to save the cotton.

It is not too late, certainly in central and north Georgia, to do so, but it means poison, intensive cultivation and the vigorous application of all of the known rules for weevil control. As has been stressed before, this is too important a matter to temporize with.

It means too much to public welfare as well as to the individual welfare of the farmer. This state is on the threshold of an era of unprecedented prosperity—farm prosperity that will mean a swing of the pendulum from the depression of drouth and of low prices—provided the weevil situation is handled intelligently and firmly.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS.

A half million rural boys and girls of the United States, between the ages of 10 and 18 years, are organized into clubs, the object of which is to train young agriculturists for their jobs. About half of the number are girls.

The projects undertaken by the children include work in raising various kinds of farm animals, planting and caring for some kind of crop, learning to judge live stock, seeds, etc.; dairying, forestry, sewing, canning, preserving, cooking, renovation of furniture, judging of fabrics, farm and home management, sanitation, health work, etc.

Georgia took the lead in work of this kind at its inception, and has been in the forefront as to numbers of young people enrolled and as to initiation of new lines of endeavor. The summer camp at Athens for club prize winners of the state was one of the first and most elaborate undertakings of the kind in the country. Local camps, such as that recently held in Gwinnett county, where the old camp meeting quarters were employed, is an example of similar county or sectional camps held in the state.

Each year phenomenal cotton and corn yields are made by club boys who follow the advice of county agricultural agents. Prize winning hogs and calves are raised by live stock club members, some of them winning prizes even at the Southeastern fair against keenest competition. The girls compete in neighborhood, county and state contests with canned goods and in sewing, in cooking and the like.

Winners in these contests may not only go to the state camp at Athens, but to the Southeastern fair at Atlanta, to the International Live Stock show in Chicago or to Washington, with all expenses paid and, besides, they receive prizes offered locally and by county or state fairs. It pays to be a club winner.

This club work is only one phase of agricultural promotion made possible through the Smith-Lever funds, supplemented by state and county appropriations. Perhaps nothing has been more effective in brightening the future outlook of agriculture and in improving rural life than the work done by the boys' and girls' clubs.

THE NAVAL PROGRAM.

President Coolidge is to be commended for his final agreement to the naval program that congress mapped out almost two years ago. It provides for the building of eight modern cruisers, each of 10,000-ton capacity.

It will be recalled that the president vetoed the expense item in the general appropriations bill, thereby suspending the building operations.

The present acquiescence is due, of course, to the failure of the Geneva conference to reach any agreement as to naval limitation, and to the announced purpose of Great Britain to sharply strengthen her armada.

The proposal for eight new cruisers, however, is merely to keep the navy modernized, and in keeping with the strength and the force of the nation.

No good reason could be assigned at the time for the president's action in suspending the building of the cruisers, except that he doubtless had in mind the armament conference, and believed that it would be prudent to wait for the results of the same.

We had earnestly hoped that the conference at Geneva would reach an agreement as to limitations in major vessels. Its failure to do so, however, is not an indication of possible strained relations between the nations at issue.

At any rate the navy is the right arm of national defense, and while this country does not want to assume a belligerent attitude it surely does want to have as fine a navy as any other nation.

GEORGIA'S TOBACCO SEASON.

The tobacco prices have been considerably advanced due to better grades of the leaf reaching the warehouses. This will probably continue throughout this state's sales season as the grades generally improve as the season advances.

There is a spirited demand for the Georgia bright leaf, and while some pessimists had declared there would be an overproduction, the market will absorb every available pound, and would take double the Georgia supply if it could.

The fact is Georgia tobacco is used in the manufacture of cigarettes. It is particularly fine for that purpose. The consumption of cigarettes has increased in the past few years at a greater ratio than any other trade item, and the increase continues.

This, of course, increases the demands for the raw tobacco. There is no prospect, therefore, of an overproduction of the Georgia leaf, and as it is a profitable crop, when the farmer understands how to grow and cure it, it is hoped that even greater acreage will be devoted to tobacco.

In saying this it must be understood that successful tobacco cultivation is predicated upon correct soil conditions and upon a thorough experience in handling the plant not only in the field but in the curing barn.

It is just as necessary to standardize in tobacco cultivation and marketing, to bring success, as it is necessary with apples, peaches or anything else.

I RECKON SO

A Column of Southern Opinion
BY T. H. ALEXANDER.

A growing southern custom which I rise and cheer at every opportunity is that of naming the hotels, railroad cars, street cars and other public institutions for the great men of the south. I don't spend much time looking backward. I have even forgotten what I ate for dinner last night, but this custom strikes me as a fine and fitting recognition of the great of the past. I would change it in only one particular—I would name some of them for the great of the present.

There are hundreds of hotels in the south named for the sages and soldiers of olden days. There are, for instance, the Hotel Andrew Jackson at Nashville, named for one of the greatest of our presidents; the Hotel Henry Grady at Atlanta, named for one of the greatest of our editors and orators; the Hotel Roosevelt at New Orleans; the Hotel Peabody at Memphis, named for the great merchant and founder of Georgia Peabody college; the Hotel Lafayette at Little Rock, named for a great French soldier; the Hotel Henry Watterson at Louisville, named for a great editor; the Hotel O. Henry at Greensboro, N. C., named after America's greatest modern short-story writer; the Hotel Thomas Jefferson at Birmingham and numerous others.

Recently I stopped at Jamestown, Tenn., way up in the Cumberland mountains and famous as the home of Sergeant Alvin York. He captured a whole army of Germans single-handed. Jamestown has the Hotel Mark Twain in honor of the great humorist's parents who came from the section.

At Waynesboro, Ga., when I motored to Florida last fall, I stopped at the Hotel Anthony Wayne, named in honor of "Mad Anthony" of revolutionary fame.

The Hotel Sam Davis, in honor of the Confederate boy hero who was hung as a spy rather than betray a friend, is now building at Nashville. At Johnson City, Tenn., is the Hotel John Sevier in honor of the state's first governor and at Knoxville is the Hotel Farragut, in honor of the great federal admiral of the civil war. The Hotel Bankhead at Birmingham carries on the name of a great old senator. There are numerous hotels named after Robert E. Lee and other civil war generals.

Such names give distinction and local identification to the taverns and they serve to carry on the name and fame of the great.

Recently the Southern Railway named 35 of its Pullman cars on the Crescent Limited for the famous names of Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia. The names were suggested by the governors of the various states.

I rode from New York to Atlanta the other day on the Crescent Limited, which can boast that it is one of the few extra-fast trains in the south. I rode on the car "Henry D. McDaniel," named after a former governor of Georgia and a Confederate soldier. He was the only one of the 35 living at the time the cars were named.

See if you agree as to the fitness of these names for the cars: Georgia—Robert Toombs, Alexander H. Stephens, Henry D. McDaniel, Joel Chandler Harris and Henry W. Grady.

Alabama—William W. Bibb, William R. King, Edmund W. Pettus, John T. Morgan, Joseph Wheeler.

Louisiana—Francois X. Martin, W. C. Claiborne, John Slidell, P. G. T. Beauregard and Francis T. Nicholls.

Mississippi—George Poindexter, William L. Sharkey, Benjamin G. Humphreys, L. C. Lamar, Edward C. Walthall.

North Carolina—William Davidson, Thomas Ruffin, John M. Morehead, Zebulon B. Vance, Robert F. Hoke.

South Carolina—William Moultrie, Francis Marion, John Rutledge, Andrew Pickens, Wade Hampton.

I hope the Southern, if it increases its cars on its crack train, will take cognizance of several southerners of a later day.

What a pleasure it would be to go marching through Georgia on the car, "Bobby Jones!" Surely Tom Watson deserves to be honored. I rarely agreed with him in his later years, but he wrote several biographies which are distinctly worth while. Conceivably one may yet ride on the Pullman car "Corra Harris."

In Mississippi one certainly should be able to ride on the car "Harris Dickson" or the car "William Alexander Percy," if not on the car "Pat Harrison" or the car "Theo Bilbo."

In Alabama it would be a pleasure to ride on the car "Governor Brandon" even if he has retired. Under the name, of course, should be printed the legend, "Twenty-four votes for Underwood."

In Arkansas the time may come when we shall ride on the car "Harvey Couch."

In Tennessee we may yet ride on the car "Governor Austin Peay," the first third-term governor since before the civil war.

Who knows but that the time may come when the beneficent Pullman company will name cars after Will Rogers, Grantland Rice, Rex Beach, Sherwood Anderson or even Jack Dempsey or a hundred other notables? Positively, however, I'll refuse to ride in the Pullman car "H. L. Menckin."

LOOKING AND LISTENING

BY SAM W. SMALL

The Righteous Appeal for Justice to the State's Negro Colleges.

The white people of Georgia want the colored people of the state to live here peacefully, labor in security and with profit, and prosper proportionately with the commonwealth at large. To those ends the better citizens of the state are ready to have all the educational advantages possible to the community. They are ready to have of which the negroes will take advantage.

The idea prevalent in a past generation that an educated negro is necessarily an impudent, irresponsible and dangerous person is emphatically played out in Georgia. Experience has demonstrated that the negro, if properly educated, is a law-abiding, orderly, thrifty and productive citizen of the state who is capable of doing as much for the state as the white man.

It is facts of observation and figures like the above that impel some of the ablest and most influential men of the state to interest themselves actively for the education of the negro. They are men of life-long experience with negro personalities, with negroes in their homes, in their schools, in their churches, in their businesses, in their social life, in their political life, in their economic life, in their cultural life, in their spiritual life, in their physical life, in their mental life, in their emotional life, in their intellectual life, in their moral life, in their SPOTLIGHTING THE SOLONS

The Cicero of the School Children Cut Loose and Lauded Their Cause.

The long-expected happened on Monday night when Hon. Sam Wright broke through the "inertia of years" and tore into the educational problem with all the fire and fury of his younger days in the house of representatives. That engaging eloquence that used to thrill an enthralled assembly came back with all its verve and versatility.

The question of providing funds to equalize the educational opportunities of Georgia's children was up.

What after subject could there be presented to stir the soul of a generous and unselfish patriot? It was just such a theme as one might anticipate would command the heart, brain and tongue of Sam Wright. And the eulogies passed upon his passionate effort by his fellow-members attests how masterfully he rose to the occasion.

He proved once more the richness of his mental and spiritual inheritance from that far-seeing and fearless father, who, in the great national convention of 1877, would suddenly drop a saphire shell into that August day that would shake it from center to fringe.

Cost to Run for Governor.
I have great respect for the fine intelligence and unselfish spirit of Senator Hensel, E. H. Hensel, but I am not his political telescope, or periscope, or out of adjustment. He has secured a favorable report for his bill to limit the campaign expenditures of a candidate for governor to $5,000.

Which reminds me of the fact that every daily and weekly newspaper in Georgia has come, by long custom, to expect a candidate for governor to print his formal announcement in its columns. All other candidates for statewide offices are expected to do the same.

Now there are 253 such newspapers in Georgia and the most shrewdly sized one would feel insulted if offered less than $10 for a gubernatorial candidate's announcement. And that is the case.

BODY COVERED WITH TORTURING ECZEMA

Doctor prescribed soothing home remedy and healed trouble

Eolia, Mo., Aug. 19:—"Some months ago my daughter developed a bad case of eczema which spread almost all over her body. After days and weeks of distress caused by this skin trouble from which she could get no relief our physician prescribed Resinol Ointment. The first few applications brought signs of healing and the boyerousness was less severe. After several weeks' use of the product not a symptom of this terrible trouble remained. I hope others will be helped as my daughter was by your wonderful Resinol Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. M. F. Downing, Route 1.
Resinol Ointment is also a soothing, healing dressing for minor burns, sores, rashes, etc. Your druggist sells it. Keep a jar handy.

EVERGLADES LAND TAX PLAN MADE

Tallahassee, Fla., August 10.—(AP)—

Adoption of a tentative schedule for the valuation of land and other property in the Everglades drainage district fixed the assessment against property holders at one-fifth of a mill, according to announcement today from the state drainage board.

The valuation was placed by the board, its members said, after receipt of the report of engineers who were sent to appraise lands in the drainage district.

The next step announced will be a hearing to be conducted probably in West Palm Beach at which "dissatisfied" taxpayers will be given an opportunity to register their complaints with the board before the final valuations are set.

"In accordance with the provisions of the act," the board's statement said, "the board finds that the aggregate valuation of all property coming within the meaning of the law amounts to approximately $105,000,000 to $110,000,000 and that based upon such total valuation an assessment of one-fifth of one mill on the dollar of property will be sufficient for present requirements."

The total amount of money to be derived from the proposed tax will run between $22,000 and $25,000 annually, it was explained. Under the valuation tentatively determined the total value of property in the drainage district amounts to approximately twice the valuation as fixed by the tax assessors of the several counties of the district, the statement said.

"An owner of two acres of land in the drainage district valued at $15 an acre, or a total of $30 would pay less than one cent under the valorem tax provision," the statement continued.

"To take care of this peculiar circumstance, it will be necessary for the board to issue approximate instructions to the tax collectors to the effect that where the tax on a person's property amounts to less than one cent, they must collect at least one cent in order to make change and to protect the property technically from escaping taxation."

Ruins of Boyhood Home Is Visited By Rockefeller

Auburn, N. Y., August 10.—(United News.)—John D. Rockefeller came Wednesday to gaze upon the ruins of his boyhood home and the site of the old hotel where he was born. The richest old man in the world sat silent upon the veranda of the Hotel Cascade, gazing across the waters of Onondaga lake, to the open site where crumbled the ruins of the house he knew as a poor bare-foot boy.

It has become an annual pilgrimage. Fire destroyed the house three years ago, so Rockefeller did not approach on this occasion—shortly after his eighty-eighth birthday—too closely to the devastation. He came just near enough to look at the familiar contours of the landscape. Rockefeller looked his fill while his former physicians gazed on and stared at him to their own content.

With all his possessions, Rockefeller does not own the land he knew as a boy. House of Rosencrans, who owns it, owns it. The Rockefeller party also visited the home of Mrs. John O'Hara, his cousin, and visited Dore Van Arsdale, who once owned the boyhood place. Later Rockefeller visited the house in Richmond, in which he was born.

The pilgrimage attracted a crowd of the thousands. Some of them dressed the aging financial figure as "John."

WAITRESS FREED AS LOVER DIES FROM ACID BURN

(Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
London, August 10.—An inquest was held today at Rotherhithe on Louis Fisher, refrigerating engineer on the American Shipping Board boat American Trader, who died after acid was thrown over his face by Josephine Waitte, stewardess, while the ship was at sea.

Captain Fish testified that there was a love affair between the two and that Fisher had been taking other women out. Miss Waitte, he declared, told him after Fisher's death that she was determined to mark him so no other woman would have him.

Dr. Fox, of London, testified that the burns on Fisher's face were not sufficient to cause his death, and he thought Fisher died of shock caused by fright after the acid was thrown.

The jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes after fright, and expressed the opinion that the woman did not intend to kill him.

Miss Waitte later was ordered deported to America on a magistrate's warrant.

He maneuvered his motorless plane to an altitude of 600 feet, traveling over hills and valleys for a distance of 32 miles.

CRISP CLUB MEMBERS GIVEN ANNUAL PICNIC

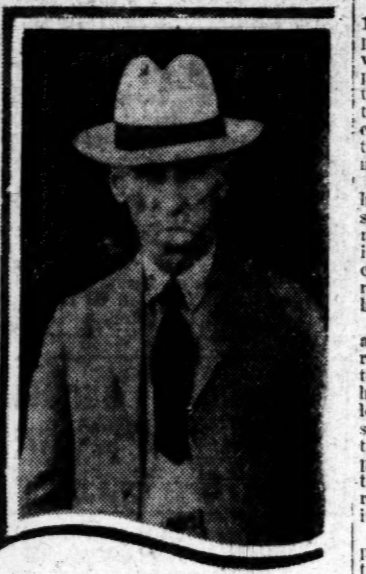

Cordele, Ga., August 10.—(Special.) Crisp county club boys and girls were guests of Cordele Kiwanis club today at the annual picnic. The program was held at Williams' swimming pool and in the park adjoining. Both young and old enjoyed the day. The youngsters took part in a fine program and Rev. Andrew Camaker and Superintendent J. W. Birvin, of the rural school, were speakers.

Many attendance prizes given by local merchants went to the 200 or more youngsters.

EDITOR TOWNSEND ILL AT DAHLONEGA; PAPER MISSES ISSUE

Dahlonega, Ga., August 10.—(Special.)—The press of the Dahlonega Nugget is still this week for the first time in 40 years, as its editor W. B. Townsend, is reported seriously ill at his home here. The editor, who has been sick for a week, was improved today, it was stated, but will not be able to "set" this week's issue on his paper.

Editor Townsend, who edits one of the most unusual weekly papers in America, is known as the Ben Franklin of the Georgia press. His homey paper is read by thousands.

W. B. TOWNSEND.

quips, biting sarcasm and wholesome philosophy long since stamped him as the most unusual editor in the state.

Editor Townsend seldom writes out his copy, but stands at his font of type and sets it by hand as the items appear in his mind, and in this manner he usually injects a little editorial comment into many of his news items. His paper usually prints from one to three pages of local matter each week, each item bearing the Townsend flavor.

The Nugget is so named because it was founded about the time the United States government maintained a mint at Dahlonega for the coinage of gold specie.

In addition to editing the Nugget, Mr. Townsend is also ordinary of Lumpkin county.

WORK'S COLORADO REPORT ATTACKED

Los Angeles, August 10.—(AP)—The report of Secretary Work to President Coolidge in which the interior secretary is quoted as expressing confidence that the seven western states involved in the Colorado river compact would make an agreement at an early date which would assure passage of the Boulder dam bill through the next session of congress was skeptically received in the west today.

Disagreements among the states involved have held up for several years the great development project, which provides for the allocation of Colorado river waters among Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Nevada, California and Arizona.

The Boulder dam bill would provide for the building by the government of a great flood control and power project near the mouth of the river. Most of the seven states have not yet ratified the compact, which is a condition of the Boulder dam bill.

Mulford Winsor, secretary of the Arizona Colorado river commission, said in reply to Secretary Work's prediction that "the report is unauthorized as far as Arizona is concerned. The Colorado river compact has no relation to the Boulder dam project in any other dam, first, the compact deals only with the allocation of waters of the river."

John L. Bacon, of San Diego, president of the Boulder Canyon Dam association, said that Secretary Work's belief that the compact soon would be ratified by all states was most welcome to California.

REALTORS URGED TO GIVE PUBLIC "MONEY'S WORTH"

Seattle, Wash., August 10.—(AP)—Real estate men were warned against "shoddy" practices and urged to get away from talk about "free" service, in an address by C. C. Hieatt, of Louisville, Ky., before the National Association of Real Estate Boards today.

"The public wants its money's worth," he said. "Reviewing activities of the association of which he is president, during the 19 years of its existence, Mr. Hieatt said progress had been made in establishing higher standards of business ethics. Courses of study had been provided, he said, designed to make the realtor a technical adviser of his client."

The speakers at the opening general session were Merle Thorpe, editor of National's Business, Washington, D. C., who spoke on the evils of paternalism in government; Arthur J. Metzke, director of education and research of the association, Chicago, and Mrs. W. H. Wright, also of Chicago, chairman of the association advertising committee.

STATE SYSTEMS OF TAXES FLAYED

Charlottesville, Va., August 10.—

(AP)—Existing state and local tax systems were attacked as inequitable, unscientific and unjust by Acting Secretary of the Treasury Mills in an address tonight before the Institute of Public Affairs conducted by the University of Virginia. Earlier in the day he spoke on treasury administration of the nation's finances.

Declaring that between 1921 and 1926 state taxes had increased 61 per cent and local taxes 30 per cent, while federal taxes had decreased 30 per cent, Mr. Mills said that reductions effected by federal expenditures, taxes and the national debt stood in contrast with an upward tendency on the part of state and local governments.

While the scrutiny of the country has been leveled on federal levies, the speaker said, the cost of local government had been rising steadily and that in his opinion, if it were a matter of choice as to which group were to be reduced, he would favor curtailment by the state and local governments.

"Generally speaking, federal taxes are fairly well divided between direct and indirect, and give recognition to the principles of ability to pay," he continued. "But our state and local tax systems are inequitable, unscientific and fall to a very large extent on one form of property—over 80 per cent of the $4,084,000,000 of local taxes rest on real property—and discriminate against the man who owns property of different classes of taxpayers."

Mr. Mills said states and municipalities were resorting to bond issues as a means of raising money, and he did not believe any real benefit was derived from the borrowing method, as in the long run borrowing was the expensive method of public financing.

All Tipton county veterans of the war residing in adjoining counties, have been invited to attend the 53rd reunion at Brighton tomorrow.

Plans for the reunion have been turned over to the world war veterans in order to relieve the followers of the Stars and Bars of burdensome details. Jere Cooper, of Dyersburg, and R. M. Beattie, of Memphis, will deliver the principal addresses.

U. D. C. Chapter Asks Solons To Pass Memorial Measures

A petition urging passage of legislation desired by the Stone Mountain Monumental association and addressed to members of the general assembly, was given out Wednesday by the association. The petition is signed by the Fulton chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Mrs. Charles L. Anderson, president.

The petition follows:

Fulton chapter, No. 1754, of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, addresses this appeal to the legislature of Georgia in behalf of the Stone Mountain Confederate Monumental association, which is trying to safeguard the Confederate memorial and carry it to completion.

The Fulton chapter is a duly accredited branch of the Georgia division, U. D. C., and of the general organization of the U. D. C. and is entitled to representation in state and national conventions of the U. D. C. on the same basis as any other U. D. C. chapter. We have a large and active membership, having claims to representation in state and national assemblies only on the number of memberships that actually are paid, and omitting names of all deceased members and all those who have failed to pay their dues.

The Fulton chapter owns no property, but all funds raised by the chapter should be devoted to the relief and comfort of the remaining veterans of the Confederacy, and to the perpetuation of their memory when devoted solely to the veterans and their families and we appeal to the public for funds only in cases where some of the veterans cannot be answered through the generosity of members of the chapter.

The Fulton chapter recites these facts as preliminary to its appeal to the legislature of Georgia, because a very small group of women have assumed the right to speak publicly against the Stone Mountain Confederate Monumental association, in the name of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in general.

The Fulton chapter wishes to go on record before the legislature of Georgia as standing behind the Stone Mountain Confederate memorial and behind the men and women who have lifted that great enterprise from the ruins of the past, to the status of assured success, if the people of the south will continue to cooperate with them in the building of the greatest of memorials.

Nor does this small group speak for the masses of the U. D. C. who, like the Fulton chapter, earnestly desire the completion of this great memorial while a few veterans of the Confederacy are yet alive to witness the justification and the glorification of the cause for which they fought.

The Fulton chapter wishes to call the attention of the legislature of Georgia to the fact that ownership of the memorial property is vested in the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in any chapter or in any division of the U. D. C.

The Fulton chapter points out that the memorial organization of the U. D. C. in three separate conventions specifically declined to accept the Stone Mountain Confederate memorial as part of the recognized work of the U. D. C. because the U. D. C. felt like it was an enterprise of such magnitude that their resources and strength were insufficient to carry it to completion. The Fulton chapter calls attention to the fact that it was the three-fold refusal of the U. D. C. to accept the memorial that caused Mrs. C. Helen Fane to organize the Stone Mountain Confederate Monumental association for the sole purpose of building the great Confederate memorial, and it was to this association that the deed of the memorial property was first made, and from whom it has never passed.

The Fulton chapter desires to point out further that the U. D. C. general has persistently declined to accept any financial responsibility for the memorial, although the general convention at Savannah, Ga., overrode the wishes of a small minority opposed to the memorial and expressed with emphasis its approval of the memorial and its desire and intention of the U. D. C. to have a share in the work of perpetuating in this way the glory of their fathers.

The Fulton chapter believes now that the majority of the U. D. C. create the privilege of participation in the work of this memorial, and that those who are fully informed of the memorial and its work in just war which a small group are warring against the men who have served nobly and well in behalf of the Confederacy and the memorial to its heroes.

The Fulton chapter deprecates the fact that a small group should purport to speak authoritatively for a national membership of thousands of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The Fulton chapter desires to emphasize the fact that the Stone Mountain Confederate Monumental association is composed of men and women with a deep pride in the history of the south, that they are held to this memorial by their desire to render a great service to the south and by the fact that their forebears fought, bled and died for the Confederacy. The members of the Stone Mountain Confederate Monumental association, who are actively directing the work of the memorial, are descendants of fighting soldiers of the Confederacy. They are proud of that distinction, and they have devoted four years of their life to the enterprise which glorifies the men who wore the gray. Serving without remuneration, attempting to preserve for the people of the south this greatest of memorials, they have been subjected to the most bitter and relentless persecution since the day they canceled Union Borgia's contract in order that they might keep faith with the people of the south, to whom the name of Borgia should ever be a stigma. In view of his silent presence at that meeting at which Lee and Jackson and other southern heroes were denounced as "yellow-livered traitors to the union."

The Fulton chapter calls upon the members of the legislature to remember that they, too, are southerners—Georgians—with a heritage of sacrifice and glory that demands of them that they be worthy of their sires.

The Fulton chapter begs the legislature of Georgia to sustain the Confederate Monumental association, which is supported by the Fulton chapter U. D. C., but by the governors of the south, the Sons of the Confederate Veterans, the Confederate Southern Memorial association and the gray uniforms themselves, all of whom are represented on the board of directors, and all of whom have officially expressed their confidence in the present administration of the memorial.

These resolutions were passed unanimously.

New York, August 10.—(United News.)—Jack Delaney, the handsome philanthropist who gave away his light-heavyweight title, came to town today ready for his first performance in heavyweight ranks Thursday night with the handsome and non-philanthropic Paolino Uzcudun.

Yankee stadium is being swept out and dusted for the affair. Despite the fact that it doesn't mean anything, New York boxing fans are excited over the bout.

That interest may be explained by the feeling that not since Dempsey climbed into the same ring with Firpo has there been such a general feeling that here is a bout in which somebody is sure to get his head beat off.

Odds on Delaney.

The odds are on Delaney—7 to 5 and 6 to 5.

Delaney is expected to weigh only a pound or two above the lightweight limit. Paolino, still busy over at Madison Square, is gorging himself with both hands, and will probably chamber clumsily into the ring at 155—about 20 pounds heavier than the French-Canadian.

None of this will be fat and Senor Uzcudun's next move will undoubtedly be to draw in his neck, fold his arms around everything from his pants to his so-called forehead, and shuffle into the dancing Delaney until the time comes to unfold.

Delaney's problem is (1) to penetrate this non-blow shell or (2) failing to do this to prevent it from exploding in his face or short-ribs.

Senor Uzcudun's problem is even simpler. It is merely to explode at the proper moment.

Jack Looks Good.

Delaney looked prettier than Gene Tunney at light exercises at the Garden during the afternoon. He was over there for unlimbering and also to put his name on his official resignation of the light-heavyweight title.

The boxing commission decided that Pete Ritz's signature wasn't sufficient, and to relieve their minds and that of old Mike McGovern, the new champion, Delaney was agreeable.

From Uzcudun's camp came confirmatory reports of bolts and an indolent left thumb. These things, however, seemed to worry neither the Basque bear nor his backers.

Bryan and Berry Grant, Frank Owens and Courts Advance in Singles Play.

Asheville, N. C., August 10.—(Special.)—Four Atlanta tennis players survived in the singles of the Carolina tennis tourney here today on the courts of the Asheville Country Club.

Bryan Grant, diminutive champion of southern tennis players, made his way into the quarter finals of the tournament by a straight-set victory over Duncan Elgin, Charlotte star, who put up a stiff fight throughout the match. The scores were 6-3, 6-3.

Frank "Hop" Owens and Jack Mooney, both of Atlanta, were regarded here today as the probable finalists in the men's singles, after both were certain of playing in the quarter finals. Owens eliminated Reeves Rutledge, Asheville, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2, while Mooney advanced on a default.

Berry Grant, brother of Bryan, advanced at the expense of L. M. McCutcheon, of Montreal, winning quite easily, 6-1, 6-1.

Courts Extended.

Malone Courts, of Atlanta, was forced to extend himself to the limit in the first set to defeat Billy Cox, Asheville ace. The first set went to Cox, 6-4, but Malone won the second, 6-4.

Cox slowed up in the second set and Malone had little difficulty in taking the match, 8-4, 6-4.

At least one Atlanta entry will be eliminated in tomorrow's play, as Bryan Grant is paired with Robert Crosland, Charlotte, N. C., champion; Jack Mooney engages John Temple Graves, of Jacksonville, and "Hop" Owens runs up against George Yennawine, University of Florida star.

Jim Mooney and B. O'Neil, Atlanta, fell in the doubles before Stewart Rogers, Asheville, and George Yennawine. Bryan Grant and Joe Boland, Atlanta, and Reeves Rutledge, Asheville, and Kola Boland, Atlanta, were two more teams to advance. The Courts brothers, Malone and Richard, won two matches, defeating Capers and Cabaniss, in three hard-fought sets, but having an easy time in the second match, eliminating McDonald and Morgan, both of Asheville, 6-0, 6-1.

Summaries.

Robert C. Boland, Charlotte, defeated Tom Cox, Asheville, 6-1, 6-2.
George Yennawine, Florida, defeated Bret Smith, Asheville, 4-6, 6-2.

AROUND THE BIG LEAGUE CIRCUITS

BY UNITED NEWS.

Babe Ruth's 36th home run of the season, scoring two mates ahead of him, gave the Yankees a lody contest at 3 decision over the Senators at Washington in the first of a four-game series, thanks to great hurling by Wiley Moore who relieved a wavering Hoyt in the sixth and held the Senators scoreless for the rest of the game. The victory increased the Yankees lead to 12 games.

Five smashing hits sandwiched between two walks gave the Giants six runs in the eighth inning, after two were out, for a spectacular 8 to 3 victory over the Pirates in the deciding game of the Pittsburgh series. After allowing but four hits for seven innings, Ray Kremer was lifted for a pinch hitter and the McGrawmen made short work of Dawson, Hill and Crevengros—Miljus finally stopping the merry-go-round. The defeat placed the Buccaners three and one-half games behind the idle Cubs.

St. Louis errors allowed the Tigers to best the Browns, 2 to 1, in a hard-fought duel between Gaston and Carroll, opposing moundsmen, in the opening game of the series.

Lefty Grove allowed but four hits and added nine strike-out victims to his long list as the Athletics trounced the Red Sox, 12 to 2, in Quakertown. The Mackmen gathered 13 safe drives off two Boston pitchers.

Hub Pruett's fine pitching gave the Phillies a 6 to 0 win over the Braves in the first game of a double-header at Boston, but Bob Smith was almost as good in the second affair and Bancroft's men made it all even for the day by a 5 to 1 score.

Swimmers will soon be crossing the English channel in shoals, like the mackerel. E. H. Temme, of London, a youngster, paddled across a few days ago and now ten or fifteen others announce that they are going to take the swim for exercise, the novelty of it having been rubbed off since Miss Elder crossed last year and several others followed. Temme is different from the old-time idea of a channel swimmer. The fat old fellows used to try to float over on the tides, relying on their ability to endure cold water and stay in until they drifted from shore to shore. Now the best swimmers are coming speed and distance, and the champions are nearly all youngsters.

George Young set the style when he outswam the English channel veterans in the 30-mile swim from Catalina island to the mainland a year ago.

The aged athlete is fading out of the picture. It used to be considered that golf and long-distance swimming were sports to be enjoyed by inhabitants of the Old Folks' home, but the youngsters have sent them all back to their knitting.

Bill Tilden Refuses To Announce Plans

May Not Enter Singles Play at Southampton—Frenchmen Default in Doubles.

Southampton, N. Y., August 10.—(AP)—Interest in the actual competition in the forty-fourth annual invitation tennis tournament here today was overshadowed by the default of Rene Lacoste and Jacques Brugnon to Donald Strachan, of Philadelphia, and Horace Orser, of New York, in the first round of the doubles play. This action spoils the prospects of a preliminary Davis cup match between the teams of Lacoste and Brugnon and William T. Tilden and Francis T. Hunter.

Another possible development of even greater significance was seen in Tilden's refusal to say whether he would participate in the singles when questioned on the subject he replied, "I do not know. I have not decided yet."

Lacoste said Brugnon was too tired to take part in the tennis play. Brugnon asserted that both he and Lacoste were fatigued. Lacoste, however, said he would play through in the singles.

The answer to Tilden's unsettled frame of mind seems to be that the former champion does not wish to hazard a defeat at the hands of his old rival because of its effect on America's chances of retaining the Davis cup. He eventually believes that a victory for Lacoste over the leading United States defender would increase the confidence of France to a dangerous degree.

George King, of New York, in the ranks of the also-rans as a result of the singles played today. Cranston Doeg, of Santa Monica, Calif., who won the select list bowed to Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Texas, at 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

The other four seeded Americans and the two French entrants reached the quarter-finals without undue difficulty with the exception of John Doeg, of Santa Monica, Calif., who for the third time in this event required three sets to dispose of his opponent, Kenneth B. Appel, of East Orange, N. J., at 6-1, 2-6, 6-3.

An overturn occurred in the doubles division. Teizo Toba and Ryuki Miki, of the Japanese Davis cup team, defeated Henri Cochet, of France, and Jose Alonso, of Philadelphia, seeded second in the foreign sections, 8-6, 4-6, 7-5.

The other select tandems, however, reached the third round without undue difficulty. Tilden and Hunter overhauled Sam Fitch, of Houston, Texas, and Armand Bruneau, of New York, 6-0, 6-1, and White and Louis Thalhimer, of Dallas, Texas, eked out a 6-4, 3-6, 6-1 triumph over James Van Allen, of Newport, I. L., and Ogden Phipps, of Southampton.

Shooting will begin at 10 o'clock and will continue for the rest of the day with an intermission for lunch.

With practically every good trap shot from this city entered and with the probability that several star clays will be among those present, the Merchandise and Trophy shoot of the Peachtree Gun club, which begins Thursday morning at 10 o'clock promises to be one of the best local trap shooting events ever staged in this city.

Main interest and the keenest competition is expected in the challenge cup race in which 150 targets are shot. This event with the class championships make up the two events that will be contested.

The challenge cup race will see 25 targets shot from the 16, 18, 20 and 22-yard marks, and 25 pairs of doubles from the 16-yard range.

The class events will all be shot from the 16-yard mark. Great care has been taken by the committee in arranging the class of the various contestants and close shoots will be likely in all events.

Shooting will begin at 10 o'clock and will continue for the rest of the day with an intermission for lunch.

Billy Gibson Begins Search For Camp Site

Expects To Land Place Before End of Week; "Bat" Wants To Referee.

Chicago, August 10.—(AP)—Billy Gibson, manager of Gene Tunney, started on a tour of inspection of prospective training camp sites for the world's heavyweight champion today, with indications that a spot would be chosen before the end of the week.

Gibson said the site he selected would be in the open country, preferably near a body of water and not too far away from a golf course. He visited Libertyville, a village 40 miles northwest of Chicago, this afternoon, and also inspected Beverly Gardens, a roadhouse about 12 miles south of Chicago's business district.

Likes Libertyville.

The champion's manager was favorably impressed with Libertyville, which is in a rolling farming country about six miles west of the Lake Michigan shore.

Gibson created somewhat of a surprise when he announced that no matter where the champion trained, there would be no admission charge, but that the public would be permitted to watch Gene, in most of his workouts.

"It isn't worth the bother to charge admission," Gibson said. "Besides, there will be some days when Gene will want to work in private. We could not very well charge the fans one day and then close the gates the next."

Gibson expects to remain here several days and after making his decision on a camp site, to return east and bring Tunney back. He said Tunney would be in shape to step into the ring tomorrow if necessary, as he has been putting in a lot of good work at Speculator, N. Y.

"Bat" Seeks Job.

Oscar Matthew "Batting" Nelson, once lightweight champion and now one of the leading property owners of Hegewisch, a Chicago suburb, is among those who would like to referee the Tunney-Dempsey heavyweight championship battle in Soldiers field, September 22.

"Bat" appeared before the state athletic commission today and applied for a referee's license.

Hagen Wanted To Be a Fighter

Walter Hagen, twice national open and British open champion, is some golfer. In his early youth Walter had an ambition to become a professional baseball player. He wasn't quite sure whether he'd be a ballplayer or take up boxing. He had a remarkable knock either way. Then he drifted into golf.

There are other athletes who might have been great fighters if they had taken up boxing instead of other sport. Lou Gehrig, with his eight and energy and condition and his tremendous wrists and hands and forearms, might have become another Jim Jeffries. He's something like Jeffries in many ways.

Bob Jones Golf Course Is Planned

Plan To Be Presented Junior Chamber of Commerce

A plan will be presented the Junior Chamber of Commerce at its weekly luncheon today by the board of directors whereby an 18-hole municipal golf course, to be named for Bob Jones, will be secured for Atlanta.

The plan was formulated Tuesday at a meeting of the board, and it was announced Wednesday that the plan would be presented the members of the junior chamber today.

Bob Jones has consented to having the golf course named after him, and if the junior chamber pledges its support today a drive to raise funds for the undertaking will be started at once, it was announced.

"If the move is approved we are going to build a course that will do credit to Atlanta and Bob Jones," said Dr. Herbert Kennedy, president of the young business men's body Wednesday. "Even if it takes five years to complete it and we have to build the course and clubhouse a little bit at a time, we'll do it."

"We'll do it" is typical of the junior chamber, for in the past, every-

The board of directors gave unanimous approbation to the motion to build a Bob Jones course and a committee was appointed, consisting of N. Baxter Maddox, chairman; C. F. Dieter, Roy Harwell, Ed Robertson and Dr. Kennedy.

The matter of a Bob Jones golf course has been underway several months, but the move by the junior chamber is the first concrete step toward its realization.

Wedding Parties Feature Social Calendar Today

Several items on the calendar today indicate the interest in the ubiquitous summer bride. The charm that finds a place in the loveliest of weddings will play its part in that of Miss Fern Elizabeth Myers and Theodore Jennings Johnson, which will be solemnized at 7 o'clock this evening at the Central Presbyterian church.

A trousseau-tea with which Mrs. Charles Leonard Bellingrath entertains this afternoon will be one of the many interesting prenuptial parties with which her daughter, Miss Onesta Bellingrath, bride-elect of August 18, will be honored.

Coming events cast their shadows before. Indicating the approach of one of the loveliest of the August weddings, the entertainment with which Mrs. C. J. Blum will honor the wedding party of Miss Dorothy Kuhlman following the rehearsal this evening will add further activity to the social round of the August bride.

Other affairs of interest, afternoon teas, parties at the club dinners and those more informal swimming parties which delight the younger social contingent throughout the summer months, will assemble the bride and her party preceding the marriages of summer and the early fall.

Miss Kirby Weds A. O. Benton.

The marriage of Miss Iola Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson Kirby, of West Point, Ga., to Arthur Oslan Benton, of West Point, formerly of Fitzgerald, was solemnized at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the First Methodist church, with the Rev. S. P. Wiggins as the officiating minister.

The ceremony was very quiet with only the members of the immediate families being present. The bride wore an early autumn model of crepe and velvet in the fashionable wood shades, her hat being a becoming close-fitting model in felt. Her flowers were a shoulder bouquet of orchids. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Benton left for a visit to New York and other points of interest in the north. On their return they will be at home in West Point.

The bride is an only daughter, whose beauty and charm of manner have made her a central figure in a wide circle of friends. She was educated at the West Point High school and later studied for two years at Mary Baldwin seminary at Staunton, Va. Her parents are leaders in the civic and social life of West Point, and her father is among the most prominent business men of that old Georgia city.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Benton, of Fitzgerald. He attended the University of Georgia and later graduated from the Georgia School of Technology where he specialized in chemistry. He now holds the position of chemist for the Luvett Dye and Bleachery works.

Stanley-Maddox Wedding Is of Interest.

The marriage of Miss Esther Louise Stanley and Herschel Maddox, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stanley, in West End Wednesday evening, August 3. Rev. Marvin A. Franklin, pastor of the Park Street Methodist church, officiated, using the impressive ring ceremony.

Mrs. Ruby Tiffin Childs, the matron of honor, was becomingly gowned in a taffeta frock featuring the tight sleeveless bodice and full scalloped skirt of uneven hemline. Adding to the daintiness of the frock were the tiny rosebuds caught at the tips of the scallops. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds.

The bride entered with her father, J. B. Stanley, by whom she was given in marriage, and they were joined at the altar by the groom and his best man, E. Hugh Maddox.

The bride was lovely in an exquisite dress of white taffeta which was elaborately embroidered in chenille flowers, seed-pearls and touches of silver. The wedding veil of silk tulle was caught to her hair with a coronet of real lace and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

Following the reception the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to

Mrs. Dan Anderson entertained an assembly of friends at tea, in compliment to Mrs. Winfield of Augusta, Ga. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. John Fowler, Miss Evelyn Latimer and Miss Carolyn Anderson.

Miss Yrma Dawn Hancock entertained with a swimming party Monday evening at the Marietta Golf club, complimenting her house guests, Misses Anna Elizabeth Hancock and Lydia Womelsdorf, of Cartersville, Ga.

Mrs. George E. Keeler entertained the Wednesday Bridge club at her home, Tranquilla.

Mrs. Morgan McNeel, Sr., was hostess at a dinner party Wednesday evening at her home on Cherokee street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Inman, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Northcutt, of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Madison Fowler are spending a few days in Savannah, Ga. Mrs. Bartow Ford, of Atlanta, is the guest of Miss Laura Ford on Forest avenue.

Mrs. W. B. Tate and William Tate have returned from a stay at Highlands, N. C.

Mrs. Joe Cannon, of Dawson, Ga., is the guest of Mrs. John Crouch on McDonald street.

Dudley Fields, of Dublin, Ga., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fields.

Miss Prichard Dickenson, of Louisville, Ky., is the guest of Miss Polly Willons.

George Nichols, of New York city, has joined Mrs. Nichols, who is spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Dobbs.

Montgomery Anderson is spending several days in Dallas, Texas.

New Orleans and Shreveport, La., Biloxi, Miss., and other points of interest. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Maddox will be at home at their apartment at 850 West End avenue.

Miss Cooper Weds Theoren D. Spence At Home Ceremony

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Mattie Lucille Cooper to Theoren Dickert Spence is of interest to their many friends here and at Palm Beach, Fla.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride on Colquitt avenue Monday morning, August 8, at 9:30 o'clock by Rev. C. T. McLaughlin, of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer in the presence of members of the two families.

The bride was lovely in a navy blue georgette frock-trimmed in white and wore a corsage of bridal roses and valley lilies. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Spence left for a motor trip to Asheville, N. C., and points of interest near Asheville. After August 20 they will be at home in the Walter apartments.

Miss Cooper is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George West Cooper and is the sister of Mrs. Clyde Marion Fortson and William I. Cooper.

Mr. Spence is the only son of the late W. B. Spence and Mrs. Sarah Brooks and is the brother of Mrs. William B. Ahlgren, of Atlanta, and Mrs. J. D. McDarty and Mrs. S. B. Neil, of West Palm Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller arrive at Biltmore.

Mr. and Mrs. William Reed Fuller, of Tampa, Fla., are spending this week at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel, en route to Asheville and New York.

Their marriage in Birmingham was an interesting event of last Tuesday, taking place at the residence of the bride at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Mrs. Fuller was Mrs. Idalene D. Roberts before her marriage, and is well-known in social and musical circles of Birmingham. Mr. and Mrs. Fuller will reside in Tampa, where they own a handsome home.

Miss Helen Bates Weds Mr. Law At Beautiful Church Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Helen Adelaide Bates and Frederick Bell Law was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at St. Luke's Episcopal church at an impressive and beautiful ceremony.

Dr. Curry Greenknidge Wilmer performed the ceremony in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives. During the assembling of the guests an appropriate musical program was rendered by Miss Eda Bartholomew.

A mass of palms flanked the rear of the pulpit, while floor baskets filled with delicately tinted summer flowers stood in relief against dark green background. Cathedral candelabra holding burning white tapers gleamed at intervals amongst the foliage and adorned the altar of the handsome church.

The groomsmen and bridesmaids, who entered the church first, came in pairs to the first strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin." They included Clinton Huguley and Byron King, Jr., Miss Virginia Brownlow, Wytheville, Va., and Miss Elizabeth Myers, W. A. Boykin, Jr., and Allen

Bartlett, Miss Vera Kamper and Mrs. T. H. Yon.

The bridesmaids wore costumes alike in the pastel shades of taffeta fashioned with long waist and full skirt and trimmed with tulle ruffles. Miss Browning and Miss Myers wore orchid; Miss Kamper and Mrs. Yon wore pink. Completing the costumes were large picture hats to match the gowns, and they carried cascade bouquets of Dresden colored flowers.

Miss Frances Law, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and wore a gown of blue taffeta fashioned the same as the bridesmaids'. A large picture hat to match and a bouquet of pink roses completed the costume.

Kenneth G. Matheson, of Philadelphia, Pa., was best man, and the ushers were Byron King, Sr., W. A. Boykin, Sr., George B. Saunders and Thad Chesley.

Attractive Bride.

The attractive bride descended the long aisle with her father, Harry R. Bates, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a wedding gown of white tulle and lace, the gown having been worn by the bride's mother on her wedding day. Her handsome veil of rare Spanish lace over her face was caught to her hair by a coronet of orange blossoms, which had been worn by Mrs. Edward Campbell, who before her marriage lived in Spain. Completing the bride's costume was a shower bouquet of roses and valley lilies.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bates on Fourth street. Receiving with the bride and groom and hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Foster Law, the groom's parents.

The bride's book was presided over by Miss Juanita Greer and Misses Frances Hull and La Trelle Smaw served punch.

Beautiful Costumes.

Mrs. Bates received the guests wearing rose chiffon combined with lace and worn with a large hat to match. A shoulder corsage of Ophelia roses completed her toilette.

Mrs. Foster Law was gowned in blue chiffon over flesh satin, and wore with a large black hat. Her shoulder spray was of pink roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. J. M. Barrentine, of Wilmington, N. C., wore coral chiffon, with a hat to match. Mrs. H. W. Brannen, of Boston, was gowned in flesh chiffon, with large hat. Miss Ella Bates, of Baltimore, Md., wore orchid gown and hat.

During the evening Mr. Law and his bride left for a motor trip, the bride's costume being of navy blue crepe trimmed with monkey skin and worn with a monkey skin felt hat. After September 1 Mr. and Mrs. Law will be at home at 1613 Rugby road, Schenectady.

YOUTHS START HIKE TO HOLLYWOOD TODAY.

An attempt will be made to lower the time record for transcontinental hikes when two young Atlantans, W. E. Daniels and Roy Clark, of 25 Alexander street, N. W., set out at foot this morning for Hollywood, Calif.

The youths plan to walk the entire distance, accepting no rides, in the hope of lowering the hiking record across the country. They will carry very light packs containing only a blanket and a change of clothing for each.

It will not be the first hike for Daniels and Clark. About a year and a half ago they walked to Miami, covering the distance in 26 days, according to Daniels.

THE VOGUE, EXPLAINED

There is a certain vogue to oil and vinegar when they are freshly mixed, French cooks tell us. That is the raison d'être of this vogue of mixing French Dressing right at the table.

At the smartest dinners where social customs originate, the hostess herself mixes the French Dressing and pours it, freshly blended, onto the salad. It is a pleasant and charming custom and certainly results in a delicious salad.

Three parts of Wesson Oil to one of vinegar or lemon juice makes a delightfully mild dressing. If you add more vinegar—two parts for instance —your dressing will be more tart. Vary the proportions according to your own taste and the strength of your particular vinegar or lemon. Salt . . . pepper . . . and paprika for color.

And then shall it be a bit of this crumbled Roquefort on this green salad or sweeter—bar-le-duc, perhaps if your salad is fruit. This is where the finesse comes in . . . to try a bit of this and a bit of that and vary your dressing to suit your salad . . . or your whims.

Wesson Oil is often recommended by women because it is so clear and light in color, and because it is very wholesome and delicate in flavor.

NEW SWIFT PLANT WILL OPEN TODAY

Another modern plant will be added to Atlanta's many industrial establishments by the formal opening today of Swift & Co.'s branch house at 244-46 West Fair street, at the corner of West Fair street.

The building is of modern fireproof construction, brick and concrete throughout, and covers an area of approximately 10,000 square feet. It is two stories high above the street and has in addition a basement in which is located coolers for sweet pickle and dry salt meats, as well as the pork freezer.

Facilities for holding products in the best possible condition until they go to the retail dealer are of the best. On the first floor is located the provision and beef cooler. Above this, on the second floor, eggs, lard, poultry and other items are kept under refrigeration.

The new branch house is more than a mere distribution point, several important manufacturing processes being carried on there. It has its own sausage kitchen and its smokehouse for hams and bacon.

Meat food products handled through the Atlanta branch house are shipped here from the western packing plants of Swift & Co. Georgia products are also handled in large quantities, being supplied by the company's packing plant at Moultrie.

The manager of the branch, L. H. Crumley, is well-known in Atlanta. He was manager of the old Swift & Co. branch house and has long experience in the packing industry. "I am happy to be identified with such a modern house," Mr. Crumley said yesterday, "and I hope that the people of Atlanta will take the opportunity to visit our establishment. It is educational to see the manner in which the up-to-date packer handles the complex problem of marketing perishable products in the best condition."

Displays of all Swift & Co. products have been arranged in the branch house for the opening, and visitors may become acquainted with the entire Swift line of fresh, cured and smoked meats, sausage, lard, shortenings, produce, lemons, margarine, canned meats and soap.

DENIES U. S. COURT HAS JURISDICTION OVER ADAIR LOAN

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Holding that the federal court had no jurisdiction to interfere with the state court in appointment of a receiver for the Adair Realty loan company, Judge G. H. Howard in Fulton county superior court Wednesday ordered Edgar Watkins and Arthur Lucas to continue in possession of the assets of the company.

Watkins and Lucas were appointed receivers by Judge Howard on July 30, after the federal judge had granted an injunction restraining the state receivership on the contention that the Adair Realty and Loan company had been organized to take over and preserve certain assets of the Adair Realty and Trust company, which is in federal receivership. The injunction was made permanent last week in August by Federal Judge Barrett.

Official Probe Needed To Allay Parents' Fear Over Son's 'Shot' in Arm

A private at Fort Benning, Ga., not knowing how to spell "inoculation," wrote his parents that he had been "shot" in the arm, but failed to give further details.

The parents of the young private, William E. Williamson, of Shreveport, La., became worried and referred the matter to their congressman, John N. Sandlin, of Minden, La., who in turn carried the matter to the war department with the information that the boy's parents were anxious that he be discharged from the service.

The usual investigation followed, with the finding that "inoculation" was what was intended instead of the more serious sounding and descriptive word. Now Private Williamson is on full duty with his company and the story of his being "shot" has been announced by Colonel Duncan E. Major, Sr., chief of staff of the fourth corps area here.

Continued cloudy, hot weather with probable showers during the day is predicted for Atlanta and vicinity by C. F. von Herrmann, local official meteorologist.

Temperatures for today are not expected to vary materially from those of Wednesday when low and high marks of 72 and 89 degrees, respectively, were recorded.

Mr. von Herrmann explained that while the temperatures are not at an unusual point, the humidity of the air is rather high, making the weather seem much hotter than the actual temperature. The humidity dropped Thursday was 86 per cent, but during the afternoon it was lowered considerably, dropping to 63 per cent.

KINGSTON INDICTED ON TWO CHARGES IN MOTOR KILLING

Two indictments, a felony and a misdemeanor, were returned Wednesday by the Fulton county grand jury against W. R. Kingston, of 822 West End Avenue, growing out of a true bill charging involuntary manslaughter in the commission of an unlawful act and the second a misdemeanor of attempting to escape after the act.

Kingston was struck after alighting from a street car at the intersection of Lucile Avenue and Culbertson street. Kingston is being represented by former Mayor Walter A. Sims and F. J. Turner, Jr.

SLATON TO GIVE BARBECUE TODAY TO LEGISLATURE

Members of the senate and house of representatives will be guests of honor at a barbecue given this afternoon at 6 o'clock at Lakewood park. Former Governor John M. Slaton is giving the barbecue in honor of the state's lawmakers.

Conveniences for guests will leave the capital grounds at 1 o'clock and return about 3, Mr. Slaton announced.

OFFICER LOCATED HERE DURING WAR HONORED IN MAINE

Colonel John T. Wright, commander of the Fifth Infantry of the United States army and head of the Citizens' Military Training camp, who was stationed in Atlanta at Fort McPherson and Camp Gordon during the world war, was presented recently with a silver mounted saber by the citizens of Portland, Maine, in appreciation of his efforts in making successful the citizens' camp just closed at Fort McKinley.

The honor became known here Wednesday when news was received of the dinner recently given to Colonel Wright in Portland, by Howard P. Wright, new prohibition administrator of the northern district of Georgia, a brother of Colonel Wright.

More Time Granted To Raise Mortgage On Home for Girls

An additional two weeks in which to arrange interest and principal payment on the Martha Chandler home for girls located at 248 Capitol Avenue has been given by holders of the mortgage. Judgment against the home was rendered last April, but foreclosure has been held up, pending donations, a number of which have come in recently.

The executive board will meet this afternoon in the parlors of the home to consider ways and means of relieving the exigency until a plan can be devised to raise the $75,000 due on all five homes. Another meeting of the board will be held at 11 o'clock Tuesday in the office of John A. Manget, chairman of the board of directors.

WORK TO START SOON ON CHRISTIAN BUILDING

Construction on the central unit of the new South Christian building, planned for the present home site, on Cleburne Avenue, is expected to get under way shortly, following issuance of a building permit for $75,000. The entire project, which is sponsored by the Christian church and devoted to the care of orphan children, will involve expenditures of $250,000 to $300,000, according to the plans announced some time ago. The only work to be undertaken at present will be on the central unit.

SIGN BOARD REMOVAL SOUGHT BY CHURCH

A petition signed by a number of members of the Presbyterian church of Buckhead requesting the county commission to take steps to remove a large sign board which is being erected near the church property, was presented to the Fulton commission in session yesterday afternoon.

On motion of Commissioner George Hope, Commissioner Walter B. Stewart, chairman of the police committee, was instructed to investigate the matter and see that the signs are removed.

ALDERMAN WILLIAMSON CONTINUES AS MAYOR

Alderman Oscar Williamson, of the ninth ward, and provisional mayor pro tem., Wednesday continued his service as mayor of the city of Atlanta and probably will occupy the seat of the city's chief executive again today.

Mayor I. N. Ragland Wednesday was still confined to his bed on account of what was termed a "minor indisposition," and it was said that he probably would not be able to resume his duties today. Mayor Pro Tem. W. Guy Dobbs is out of the city.

Tampa Releases Prisoners, Jail Can't Hold Them

Tampa, Fla., August 10.—(AP)—More than a score of short term prisoners in the city stockade were to be released today on orders of the city commission, because the prison is so full of men that their health is threatened. W. Leslie Brown, city manager announced today.

The number released will depend on how many are sent in to municipal court today. The stockade will accommodate 175 persons. One hundred and ninety-three were there last night.

The commission ordered the city manager, superintendent of prisoners and Judge Leo Stalaker to act as a pardon board to release sufficient prisoners to keep the number in jail around 175.

DIVORCED COUPLE SEEK TO FORGET; MEET, REMARRY

London, August 10.—(United News).—Seeking forgetfulness in travel, H. E. Cross, 42, of Chicago, arrived here after a lengthy foreign tour—and ran right into the ex-Mrs. Cross, also seeking forgetfulness.

They had been divorced in the United States several years before, but decided immediately that they had made a mistake.

15 WHALES PLAY ABOUT STEAMER IN CANADA GULF

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, August 10.—Passengers on the Hudson liner Munargo, returning from a 12-day Canadian cruise, told ship news reporters a whale of a story when the steamship docked here today.

While traversing the Gulf of St. Lawrence, they said, the ship was forced out of her course to avoid a school of 15 whales sporting gaily in the water.

REFUSED PETITION TO DISCONTINUE PASSENGER TRAINS

The petition of the Georgia railroad to discontinue trains number 5 and 6, operating between Augusta and Atlanta, was denied Wednesday by the Georgia public service commission.

The request of the railroad for changes in the schedules of main line trains was also denied by the commission.

BETTER ENFORCEMENT OF Game Laws Noted By State Auditor

Wider distribution of hunting licenses and the amount of fines collected may be taken for an indication, better enforcement of the game and fish protection penal statutes were noted by Sam J. State, state auditor, in a comment on an audit of the state game and fish commission, just completed.

ARLINGTON MAN SEES GOOD PEANUT PRICES

Arlington, Ga., August 10.—(Special).—H. E. Nelson, who returned from a two-week trip to the peanut markets in Chicago and other points in the north and east, in conferring with the buyers of shelled peanuts these markets, Bowditch says they are calculating on a crop increase the coming season of 80 to 100 per cent over last year, but notwithstanding the fact that the market will open up here at a good price and that the price will not drop below what is now being paid on contracts.

Proceeds from the entertainment will go into the cottage fund of the Odd Fellows' orphanage at Griffin. Every Rebekeah lodge in the city is especially invited to be present.

GRIFFIN CHAMBER TO HEAR C. J. HADEN IN ADDRESS FRIDAY

Griffin, Ga., August 10.—(Special).—Charles J. Haden has accepted an invitation to deliver the address at the annual dinner of the Griffin Chamber of Commerce on Friday evening. It is the yearly meeting of the entire body of the chamber.

Officers will be installed and the year's program of activities will also be outlined at the meeting.

Body of Horace Boyd Carried to Griffin For Interment Rites

Griffin, Ga., August 10.—(Special).—The body of Horace Boyd, who killed himself in Atlanta Monday night in a jealous rage after shooting Murphy Nelson, was brought to Griffin Tuesday afternoon and is being held in a local undertaking parlor until the arrival of a brother, Douglas Boyd from Chicago.

Mrs. Flea Boyd, mother of the youth, has suffered a nervous collapse and is under the care of a physician.

Better Enforcement Of Game Laws Noted By State Auditor

Wider distribution of hunting licenses and the amount of fines collected may be taken for an indication, better enforcement of the game and fish protection penal statutes were noted by Sam J. State, state auditor, in a comment on an audit of the state game and fish commission, just completed.

The audit covers the two-year period from July 1, 1935, to June 30, 1937, divided into annual periods. Fines collected in the first year totaled $4,734.50, while during the succeeding 12 months the total ran to $6,203.24.

ARLINGTON MAN SEES GOOD PEANUT PRICES

Arlington, Ga., August 10.—(Special).—H. E. Nelson, who returned from a two-week trip to the peanut markets in Chicago and other points in the north and east, in conferring with the buyers of shelled peanuts these markets, Bowditch says they are calculating on a crop increase the coming season of 80 to 100 per cent over last year, but notwithstanding the fact that the market will open up here at a good price and that the price will not drop below what is now being paid on contracts.

He bases this largely on the fact that though there is an increased crop prospect for the coming season, there is no carry-over on hand, as was the case upon the opening of the season last year and on the increased uses of peanuts.

BAPTIST PLAN NEW BUILDING AT THOMASVILLE

Thomasville, Ga., August 10.—(Special).—Baptists in Thomasville are elated over the progress being made by the committee in charge of the projected erection of a new church edifice here, which will cost in the neighborhood of $75,000 to $100,000. Pledges to the amount of $75,000 were secured sometime ago for this work, but the committee did not care to proceed with the work until the money was actually in hand or in the form of notes which could be used as collateral for this purpose. So far $80,000 has been secured and it is expected within a short time to have the whole amount of pledges in such shape that the financial arrangements will warrant starting the work.

EX-SENATOR SMITH TO ADDRESS LAWYERS

Former Senator Hoke Smith will address the lawyers' club at 6 o'clock Friday night at the Kimball House, at what is scheduled to be the outstanding monthly meeting of the club's program for this year.

Congressional experiences and side-lights on the secret activities at the national capital will feature Senator Smith's talk. In his address the senator will draw on his personal contact and wide acquaintance with affairs in Washington.

USHER IS SHOT AS HE ATTEMPTS TO EVICT ALIEN

Brooklyn, N. Y., August 10.—(Special).—The trim, gold-branded uniform of Isadore Meyer, an usher in the Supreme Motion Picture theater, was punctured by bullets and knife thrusts Wednesday while the audience fled in panic.

Meyer was evicting an unidentified Italian from the theater for allowing a young woman when the man shot him twice through the left arm and stabbed him in the back. Meyer was taken to a hospital. His assistant escaped with the frightened members of the audience.

WOMAN'S SCREAMS AROUSE DEAD MAN; THEN BOTH DIE

Findlay, Ohio, August 10.—(United News).—A physician Wednesday pronounced Perry Clinton Thomas dead of cancer and his wife screamed in grief.

The shock was too much for Mrs. Thomas. She collapsed and died shortly thereafter of heart disease, and the undertaker who had been summoned to care for Thomas' body removed instead the body of his wife.

THREE AND ONE-HALF HOURS LATER THOMAS DIED

A double funeral will be held Friday, Mrs. Thomas was 67 and her husband 74.

WHEAT IS ACTIVE ON DUST REPORTS

ON ROOF REPORTS

Chicago, August 10.—(P)—Renewal of frost and rust reports from crop territory brought out active buying of wheat toward the last today and higher prices. Earlier the market averaged lower because of selling based on correct anticipation that the United States government crop report on which would be favorable. Wheat cash, firm, 1 5-8c to 2 4-8c net higher, corn 5-8c to 1 7-8c up, oats at 1-2c to 3-4c advance and provisions varying from 10c decline to a rise of 20c.

Buying of wheat received its chief impetus through advices which were taken to indicate that damage to the crop would be less. The spring crop belt is worse than was generally believed. Black rust damage was represented by advices current late in the day as being greater than expected. The report from the international line, whereas in Canada increased damage was reported by frost as well as rust.

The Canadian frost report which gave the most forcible stimulus to wheat buying here was recalled to an elevator concern that operates especially in Canada. The spring crop belt is worse than was generally believed. Black rust damage was represented by advices current late in the day as being greater than expected. The report from the international line, whereas in Canada increased damage was reported by frost as well as rust.

The government estimate of corn for 1917 is not to be practically identical with recent unofficial reports for the most part ranged from 2,350,000,000 to 2,400,000,000 bushels. Broadening general demand for corn has been noted. Provisions touching a new high price record for the season, was based largely on temperatures persisting low. Oats touched new top-level prices for the season.

The outstanding influence regarding provisions was likelihood of a big increase of lar stock this month.

New York, August 10.—(AP)—Speculative interest in today's stock market centered largely in select group of public utilities and specialties, more than a dozen of which were marked up to new high records. Considerable irregularity developed in the general list with professional traders showing a disposition to restrict commitments until the market found a new stimulant in the outside news.

The increase of 88,708 tons in the July unfilled freight of the United States Steel corporation was offset somewhat by the fact that steel ingot production that month was the lowest since July, 1925, and that there has been a weak tendency toward the price of heavier materials. United States Steel closed a point lower at 132 3/4 after having sold as high as 134 7/8. J. Edgar Hoover's 62 to a new peak with buying stimulated by the decision of the federal government to go ahead with its naval building program, but it later lost all its gains.

Rails started upward at the start on buying presumably influenced by the report that freight of the United States Steel corporation was offset somewhat by the fact that steel ingot production that month was the lowest since July, 1925, and that there has been a weak tendency toward the price of heavier materials. United States Steel closed a point lower at 132 3/4 after having sold as high as 134 7/8. J. Edgar Hoover's 62 to a new peak with buying stimulated by the decision of the federal government to go ahead with its naval building program, but it later lost all its gains.

The Day in Finance

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, August 10.—General Motors was strong in anticipation of an increase in the annual dividend rate tomorrow from 8 percent to 10 with news of a forthcoming splitup two for one and 5 percent on the new stock. Gas shares were very strong together with shares of specialties making the tape in the early trading eight minutes behind the floor. Durant is credited with leadership of the market with many points operating against it. The outstanding interest in an effort to offset the uncertainties created by the unexpected Coolidge announcement. The stock market was more professional than in recent months, with commission houses reporting the big outside public doing little or nothing.

Steel common sold off despite the news of an increase in unfilled orders in July unfilled orders. The company is now operating at only 67 percent of capacity against 70 a week ago, full capacity early in the year and 88 percent last year. The increase in unfilled orders for July was due more to a slowing down in production than to an increase in new orders. The news from the trade is that incoming orders are not reflecting the beginning of the usual increased autumn demand at this time of year.

Gas Companies Strong.

On transactions of only 100 and 200 shares lots with 500 shares lots the large Brooklyn Gas advanced rapidly from 141 to 150 where the income return is only 3.3 percent. Shares of other gas companies in this territory were also strong. For months there has been very good buying of these stocks on plans under a new increase in rates by the Federal Public Commission for gas as a substitute for coal and oil, especially in residential areas. These plans include selling prices for gas on a sliding scale, price declining according to the amount consumed.

Weekly freight car loadings are 50,000 behind this time last year indicating a decline in the rate of the coming monthly earnings statements of the carriers. Net for months has been declining, despite an increase in rates, because of the higher wages paid.

The reduction of 8,500 barrels reported in the daily production of crude oil for the week ending August 7, compared with the peak reached the week before together with the increase of 9,188 barrels in daily production at Seminole for August and the cut in the California Petroleum quarterly dividend from 50 cents to 25 added to interest now being shown in the oil situation. California Petroleum reported a net for the half year after fixed charges and depreciation of $2,841,000 against $3,578,000 for the first half of 1926 with the June quarter at only $91,000 against $2,351,000 for the corresponding period of last year. From reliable sources it is learned that an agreement has been reached to get daily production in the Seminole district within the next ten days if possible and keep it at that level against the recent peak of 527,000 barrels. The feeling is that with the increase in well production in the Seminole district it will be impossible to get daily production below 450,000 barrels for some time to come; also that there is plenty of oil in the Seminole fields when Seminole begins to go.

Ford in January.

Machine manufacturers confirm the information in this column yesterday to the effect that Ford cannot get into big production this year, despite the recent widespread reports that he would be ready to turn out his new model in large quantities next month. It is believed now that Ford may have his new model ready for exhibition for the coming annual automobile show the first week in January.

Bethlehem, which makes armor plates and ships, is active in the day together with shares of companies making submarines and airships. The news from Washington that the government is going to strengthen its navy and its air service was a real advance in these shares.

Investigation by the stock exchange of recent trading in Manhattan Electric has been enlarged by a report to all members for detailed information regarding all transactions from May 20 to August 9, including names and addresses of all persons who have been found to be active in this stock.

FRANCE SENDS MORE SOLDIERS TO ALPINE FRONT

Paris, August 10.—The warlike atmosphere of the French-Italian Alps has been intensified during the last few days with the arrival of the French 2nd division for summer maneuvers in the upper Vercors valley, a few kilometers from the Italian frontier. The ministry of war has developed to some of the recently proposed power projects. Concurrent strength of Brooklyn Union Gas, Brooklyn Edison and Consolidated Gas, all of which touched new high marks, gave rise to merger rumors, but these lacked confirmation.

Extreme nervousness characterized the trading in General Motors because of the uncertainty surrounding the dividend action to be taken by directors at tomorrow's meeting. The stock closed 1 7/8 points net higher at 225 after fluctuating between 225 and 225 1/2. The stock touched another new high at 40 and then sold down to 28 1/4, off 1 point net. Mack Truck broke nearly 4 points to 55 and then sold down to 54 1/2. The stock of other motors moved within rather narrow limits.

Baldwin Goes Up.

Baldwin was run up to a new record high at 254 at the expense of an overvalued short interest. The stock sold down to 249 1/4 for a small fractional net loss on the day. Other issues to reach new high ground were American Express, American Waterworks, American Bosch, Commonwealth Power, Mullins Body, Reynolds Tobacco, B. O. Elevator, U. S. Steel, and White Sewing Machine. Canada Dry rallied more than 5 points to a new top despite official denials of reports that the company would be absorbed by Postum Cereal.

Commercial Solvents B broke 5 1/2 points on a few sales. Eastman Kodak, Electric Storage Battery, Rossa Insurance and S. Rubber also were completely unchanged.

Call money was in liberal supply all day at the renewal figure of 3 3/4 percent. Other rates were unchanged. A sharp upturn in wheat prices featured the commodity markets. Trading in cotton quieted down considerably, final quotations ruling 18 points lower. Coffee prices were slightly easier, but sugar quotations held steady.

A jump of about 10 points in Spanish pesetas to just below 17 cents was the only change of consequence in the foreign exchange market. Sterling held steadily around 124 1/2, while the franc was unchanged at 252 cents.

MOD THREATENS WEBSTER SLAYER

Jacksonville, Fla., August 10.—(AP)—Removal in view of alleged threats to storm the Broward county jail at Fort Lauderdale, of Horace Alderman and Robert E. Weech, Miami alleged rug runners, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the slaying Sunday of two government operatives in a battle 40 miles off Fort Lauderdale, from Fort Lauderdale to the jail here was ordered today by Judge William T. Grubb, of the United States court for the southern district of Florida.

CONYERS MAN HEADS 5TH DISTRICT MASONIC

Clarkston, Ga., August 10.—(Special)—Featured by an address by A. J. Conyers, master of the 5th district Masonic lodge, was the annual convention of the fifth district Masons held here today.

RAILROAD FIGHT ASKED TO DECIDE

Clarkston, S. C., August 10.—(AP)—The question as to whether or not a federal court of three judges should be convened for hearing the application of the Columbia Railway Gas and Electric company for an interlocutory injunction restraining the state railroad commission from enforcing its order for the discontinuance of the plain, was argued today in the federal district court before Judge Ernest F. Cochran. No decision has been announced yet by the judge.

INDUSTRIAL CITIES SHOW POSTOFFICE DECLINE IN JULY

Washington, August 13.—(AP)—July postal receipts at 50 industrial cities totaled $2,987,852, a decrease of 2.78 percent as compared with July last year. The postoffice department announced here.

SOY BEAN DELEGATE MAKE LONG DETOUR

Washington, N. C., August 10.—(AP)—A delegate to the National Soy Bean convention is sorry a plan he read about someone who was not coming out, whereby Washington, N. C., was trying to get Washington, D. C., to change its name.
